Anaheim (US), Sep 11 (PTI) Vietnamese-American actor and stunt choreographer Ke Huy Quan, who was most recently seen in the acclaimed absurdist comedy "Everything Everywhere All At Once", is set to star in the second season of the Disney+ series "Loki".

Quan's casting was announced by Marvel Studios head Kevin Feige on the day two of the D23 Expo here, but he didn't reveal his character details.

Feige said the team is shooting for the upcoming season in the UK. "Loki" chapter two will arrive on the streamer next summer.

Starring Tom Hiddleston as the titular anti-hero, the show was renewed for a second run last year.

Quan, whose credits also include 1980s films such as "Indiana Jones and the Temple of Doom" and "The Goonies", was also joined on the stage by Hiddleston, Owen Wilson, and Sophia Di Martino.

The first season of "Loki", Marvel Studios' third series at Disney+, centred on Hiddleston's God of Mischief, who lands at Time Variance Authority (TVA) following the events of 2019's feature film "Avengers: Endgame".

Gugu Mbatha-Raw, Wunmi Mosaku and Richard E Grant were also part of season one. PTI SHD RDS RB

'India always an important market for Australia': Brendan McClements of Visit Victoria

In a conversation with Business Today, Brendan McClements, CEO of Visit Victoria, speaks about India as a source market, the T20 World Cup and what it means for Melbourne and his plans to attract more Indian travellers.

Smita Tripathi

Sep 03, 2022, Updated Sep 03, 2022, 4:55 PM IST

Australia has always been a popular destination for Indian travellers, particularly the state of Victoria with Melbourne as the chief city. In the year ending December 2019, Victoria recorded 178,000 visitors with a 47.3 per cent market share making it the most popular Australian state out of India. We spoke to Brendan McClements, CEO of Visit Victoria, on the importance of India as a source market, the T20 World Cup and what it means for Melbourne and his plans to attract more Indian travellers. Excerpts:

BT: How important is India as a market for you? How have things changed post the pandemic?

Brendan McClements: The interesting thing about the pandemic from our perspective is that everything got reset to zero. Everyone had exactly the same market share. Everyone had exactly the same opportunity and it's been quite a bit of reflection from our side about thinking through our international strategy. India has always been such an important market for our country. There is such an enriching relationship between the two countries, not just for tourism, but also culturally. There is a significant Indian diaspora in Melbourne in particular, which has given us great family and friends' links back into this market.

The short answer to your question is that India is a very important market for us. And we are very pleased about how strongly India has come back already. Pre-pandemic India was our second-biggest source market, with China being the first. India continues to be our second biggest market. New Zealand is our largest market now. So in June, we saw 11,810 short-stay international trips from India to Melbourne, which was only 14 per cent down on the equivalent time period pre-pandemic.

When you think that the country is 58 per cent down and Victoria is 57 per cent down in that period, India is a real shining light for us in the current world.

Pre-pandemic Australia had half a million visitors from India in a 12-month period.

BT: What are your expectations and what all are you doing to promote Melbourne?

Brendan McClements: Part of the reason we are here just now is to connect with the industry here and get to understand in detail the market better than we did before. We really look forward to what's gonna come over the next few months, particularly as we head towards the T20 World Cup, which someone said to me today is going to be the biggest sporting event in the year -- India versus Pakistan at the Melbourne Cricket Ground on the 23rd of October. The T20 final will also take place at the MCG.

When the tickets went on sale, the game that sold the quickest was India versus Pakistan. So we look forward to welcoming a large number of Indians and the Indian diaspora.

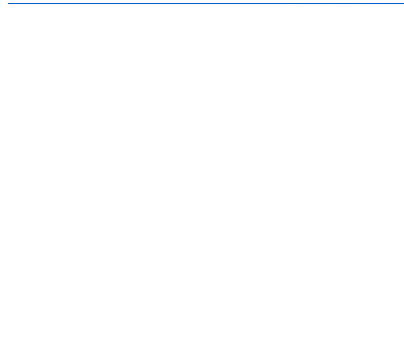

So that for us is a great platform to talk about Victoria and continue to see the return of the Indian travellers to our state.

We have a tie-up with cricketer Rishabh Pant and Masterchef Australia runner's up Sarah Todd. Besides sports, we have a very strong food and wine culture.

As we roll out our campaigns we are saying that Melbourne has layers and layers of that urban experience that so many people look for and what better way to experience it, than when they're going to a cricket World Cup.

BT: What about the Indian Film Festival of Melbourne?

Brendan McClements: We were really pleased to be a supporter of the Film Festival this year. So yes, the film festival's been brilliant and it's an increasingly important part of how we work to help as many people understand what Melbourne has to offer from a travel perspective too.

BT: Are there any plans to invite Bollywood to come and shoot in Melbourne?

Brendan McClements: Yes, we're always open to that discussion. We're certainly keen to bring the Bollywood celebrity experience to Melbourne as well. We have had some films made in Melbourne already. We do see it as an attractive place to come. I think the state through a sister organization of ours Film Victoria is very active in the space of working with potential producers to use Melbourne as a backdrop for the Bollywood film as well.

BT: Are you targeting only the leisure traveller or also MICE and FIT?

Brendan McClements: So there are a couple of things. Our target audience is what we call high-value travellers now, they can be free and independent travellers, or they can be visiting family and friends. They can actually be international students. In June, again, we started to see the return of international students. India is now the number one source of international students for Australia and Victoria in particular. So 8,800 students came this year.

So all of those people who, whether in a short stay, spend a lot of money or in a longer stay, still spend equally as much come under the high-value traveller. Now separately MICE is another part of our business. So we control the Melbourne Convention Bureau that goes out and works with conferences, and incentive organizers to bring meetings to Melbourne and actually that's turned out to be quite a lucrative opportunity.

We've already seen very good MICE business come from India in the last three or four months. We're thinking about upgrading our presence here to put a more permanent resource in India to deal with the MICE market because we're seeing a good response.

'Sanjeev kumar-The Actor We All Loved' now gets a special place in the Sanjeev Kumar Auditorium

One of India's earliest globally acclaimed actor, Sanjeev Kumar's biography gets a place in the Sanjeev Kumar auditorium.

FP Staff | August 22, 2022 14:42:59 IST

Sanjeev Kumar has no offspring but he has a road , a stamp, a school and an auditorium to his name. Inaugurated by PM Modi on his campaign trend in February 2014. The auditorium is a lavish structure and can accommodate upto 1100 guests in seating. Uday Jariwala who is the heir to the legacy of Sanjeev Kumar (Haribhai Jariwala) has now placed the late actor's book -'Sanjeev Kumar- The actor we all loved' among his many awards.

"We handed over all of my uncle's awards to the auditorium. They belong to the people just like my uncle's films belong to them" added co-author and his nephew Uday Jariwala.

Reeta Ramamurthy Gupta and Uday Jariwala have co-authored this very important biography of historical significance in the annals of Indian cinema. The book traverses his life from 1938 to 1985 and promises to be a thorough entertainer.

It takes us through Sanjeev Kumar's journey to becoming one of the greatest actors Bollywood has seen, with personal essays by his friends and leading Bollywood names including Gulzar, Randhir Kapoor, and co-stars Sharmila Tagore, Moushmi Chatterjee, Tanuja, among others.

Commenting on her experience of narrating Sanjeev Kumar's life story, co-author Reeta Ramamurthy Gupta comments 'It took me four years, multiple interviews with over 25 contributors, poring over 800 magazine articles in five languages to write this book. The book chronicles his rags-to-riches story, his motivations, his fears and his God-gifted talent. As the documentary titled 'Shut Up Sona' has been selected as one of the films to be screened at the upcoming Indian Film Festival of Melbourne 2021, singer Sona Mohapatra says that the film is a journey of her life.

'Shut Up Sona', directed by Deepti Gupta, is a cinematic expression of the journey of Sona, in the music industry and as a performing artist where she has often been labelled as a 'troublemaker' for raising concerns that matter the most. She doesn't shy away from exercising her agency and speaking her mind.

Charming, unabashed, and unstoppable, Sona Mohapatra is one of the important figures debating the existing gender discourse in India. Her film challenges the status quo and tackles the prejudices that run deep in the music industry in particular and Indian society in general while showing a journey across the length and breadth of India's diverse landscape where Sona shares her musical roots and inspirations that range from folk, semi-classical to iconic artists, Mirabai to Amir Khusrau to modern-day influences that make her a rockstar playing to hundreds of thousands in her live concerts.

Talking about the film's screening at the IFFM, she said, "I am so elated to see that this year's IFFM has a considerable number of women filmmakers which is a great feat. I am so humbled and equally proud to see 'Shut Up Sona' among an incredible line-up of films. This documentary is my personal voice and journey with my sister-in-arms Deepti Gupta in the land of visual storytelling and I cannot wait for the audience to connect with it and my musical journey."

The Indian Film Festival of Melbourne is happening on the ground as well as virtually. The physical festival will take place between August 12 to 15. Keeping the global pandemic and travel restrictions in mind, the festival organisers have also arranged a virtual edition of the festival between August 15 and 30.

The director of the festival is Mitu Bhowmik Lange and it is organised by the state government of Victoria.

New Delhi: Shefali Shah isn't in a hurry to direct her first feature film 'Crime 2'. The 'Crime 2' star said she is enjoying the current phase in her career.

For her, the year started with 'Disney+ Hotstar' medical thriller series 'Numa' followed it up with the 'Prime Video' social thriller film 'Jalsa', for which she won the best actress award at the 'Indian Film Festival of Melbourne' last month. Best rave reviews coming her way for two back-to-back 'Netflix' movies 'Darlings' and season two of the acclaimed police procedural 'Crime' - she is on a roll.

Asked whether she plans to helm her first full-fledged film following two shorts that she released in 2020, Shah said yes but in good time.

"I really want to. I directed those two short films and it is addictive," she told a top news agency about the self-starring COVID-19-based projects 'Someday' and 'Happy Birthday Mummy Ji'.

All her energies will go into direction when she chooses to shift to 'National Award' winner.

"Right now, I'm really enjoying my phase as an actor. I started with 'Human', then 'Jalsa', then 'Darlings' and now 'Delhi Crime 2'. I'm really enjoying this space. So I don't think it's a good idea to go off the grid to direct something. I wouldn't be doing anything else when I do that, but I will. It needs a lot of work to dive into something like that. It takes a lot of time. I want to be able to give that unadulterated time when I'm ready," she said.

Shah will next be seen in the upcoming campus comedy 'Doctor G'.

'Gandhi & Co' screened at International Film festival in Melbourne and Toronto

By whizbliz@vectormob.com - August 24, 2022

Gujrati film 'Gandhi & Co.' directed by Manish Saini was honored with the second-best Indian feature film amongst the 200 films across 55 countries at the 13th edition of the Bengaluru International Film Festival. It is through the mischievous protagonists of Mitoo and Mitra, that the ideologies of our beloved Father of the Nation are conveyed. The movie is a must watch and teaches non-violence, truth, honesty, forgiveness and perseverance in a non-bookish manner.

The movie continues to gain fame across the globe. After winning the coveted 'Golden Slipper' award at the 62nd edition of the prestigious Zlin Festival in the Czech Republic, the movie is now screened at Melbourne and Toronto. The movie is screened at the International film Festival of Melbourne and the International Film Festival of South Asia Toronto.

Says Mahesh Danannavar, "For a regional children's film to be screened at so many prestigious international film festivals is a huge honour. I feel the film's universal appeal is rooted in its simplicity and wholesomeness. Also, the overarching theme of Gandhian idealism is a huge draw and continues to win over hearts and minds wherever the film is screened."

He further adds, "Kids and adults have loved the film equally and have been entertained and moved by it. On the surface, it is a story of two 11 year olds who don't really know much about what Gandhi represents. Later, through an influential adult, they begin to find out more about Gandhi, and the film transitions into a depth that the children and the audiences had not anticipated. It is truly an honor to tell this story and to see it going places."

The movie stars Darshan Jariwala, Jayesh More, Druma Mehta, Shah Reyaan and Dhyani Jani.

Alia Bhatt was severely mocked, which resulted in widespread "Boycott Brahmastra" and "Boycott Bollywood" trends

By whizbliz@vectormob.com - August 23, 2022

Once again, Alia Bhatt incited outrage online, increasing awareness of her next movie Brahmastra. The recent comments by the Bollywood actress offended many, which sparked the wildly popular Twitter hashtags "Boycott Brahmastra" and "Boycott Bollywood." However, neither the movie nor the actress is original in this regard. Trolls frequently attack Alia for a variety of reasons.

This time, Alia allegedly said in an interview, "if you don't like me, don't watch me," which sparked outrage among online users. As a result of the video's widespread distribution on social media, several Twitter users have vowed to boycott her upcoming movie, "Brahmastra."

A user of Twitter stated, "The #BoycottBollywood campaign appears to be driving #Bollywood insane. Whenever you like, @aliaa08 ". The following comment was made by another user: "Inspired by Kareena Kapoor Khan, now Alia Bhatt states, "I can't keep defending myself vocally. And don't watch me if you don't like me "So you already know what to do with her future film, Bhramastra, don't you? RT to spread the word and reach everyone's WhatsApp groups." "Alia Butt: "If you don't like me, don't see my movie." This nepo seed is so bold! Accepted as a challenge! Boycott Bollywood and #BoycottBrahmastra "another wrote.

A previous incident in which Kareena Kapoor's old interview appeared on social media just before the premiere of her movie "Laal Singh Chaddha" angered many people. Kareena expressed similar views to Alia in the video, which sparked a "boycott" trend on Twitter and ultimately hurt the movie's box office performance. In recent years, the boycott trend has become increasingly popular, with many performers and their films suffering as a result.

Regarding "Brahmastra," it will be released in theatres on September 9. Brahmastra, the first movie of a trilogy that would create the Astraverse, Bollywood's very own cinematic universe, took five years to make. Hindi, Tamil, Telugu, Malayalam, and Kannada are the five Indian languages in which the movie will be released.

IFFM २०२२ मध्ये सामंथा असणार प्रमुख पाहुणी

अभिमानास्पद क्षण

इंडियन फिल्म फेस्टिव्हल ऑफ मेलबर्नने अभिनेत्री सामंथा रथ प्रभूला मुख्य पाहुण्यांच्या भूमिकेत निर्मात्रित केले आहे. दोन वर्षांच्या खंडानंतर पुन्हा हा कार्यक्रम होत आहे. तो १२ ऑगस्टपासून सुरू होईल, त्यानिमित्ताने सामंथा ऑस्ट्रेलियाच्या क्विन्सलँडला आपल्या चाहत्यांना भेटणार आहे. या वेळी तिचे शेकडो चाहते उपस्थित राहण्याची शक्यता आहे. सामंथा

'गेल्यावर्षीही मी IFFM चा भाग होते. मात्र यावेळी एका पाहुण्याच्या रूपात सहभागी होणे हा माझ्यासाठी एक अभिमानास्पद क्षण आहे. आयोजकांनी मला संधी दिली, त्यानिमित्ताने ऑस्ट्रेलिया दौऱ्यावर येता आले, याचा मला आनंद आहे. आता चाहत्यांशी भरपूर गप्पा मारता येतील.'

फिल्म महोत्सव में जाएंगी सामंथा

To commemorate 75 years of India's independence, actor Abhishek Bachchan and former cricketer Kapil Dev will be hoisting the Tricolour in Melbourne, Australia on August 13. The two, who are key speakers at the upcoming edition of the Indian Film Festival of Melbourne, will hoist the National Flag at Federation Square.

Every year, a representative from Indian cinema hoists the Tricolour, and Bachchan is eager to revel in patriotic spirit along with Dev.

"It is a great honour to be a part of the 75th year celebrations of Indian independence in Melbourne. It's a matter of pride for me to hoist the National Flag," says

Bachchan, 46, pointing out how the event also highlights the merging of cinema and cricket on a global arena. "This is a mark of the friendship between Australia and India," he notes.

He continues, "To share this platform with Kapil sir is momentous for me and the event also marks the coming together of cinema and cricket, two things that have often united us Indians. I am looking forward to celebrating India, Indians and the spirit of our country among hundreds of people in attendance."

On being a part of the festival, Dev had earlier said, "It's a deep-rooted emotional connection we have for both cinema and sports, and when they come together, it's a rewarding experience."

The film fest, which will be held from August 12-20, is returning after two years of being held virtually due to the pandemic.

Taapsee Pannu starrer 'Dobaaraa' directed by Anurag Kashyap all set to open the prestigious IFFM 2022

MUMBAI, JULY 22: Directed by Anurag Kashyap and written by Nihit Bhave, 'Dobaaraa' stars Taapsee Pannu and Pavail Gulati in the lead roles. The story revolves around how a woman gets the opportunity to save the life of a 12-year old boy who witnessed a death during a thunderstorm which happened 25 years ago, by getting connected through the television set during a similar storm in the present. This film is the Hindi remake of the 2018 Spanish movie 'Mirage'.

The Indian Film Festival of Melbourne is one of the biggest celebrations of Indian cinema outside of the sub-continent. After two years of the festival being held online, the festival is gearing up to be held physically this year with the vision of bringing the vibrancy of Indian cinema to where it belongs – on the big screen. With films like 'Dobaaraa', the IFFM team is bringing another exciting, diverse set of Indian cinema to Melbourne and developing a blockbuster program of supporting events along with the same.

'Dobaaraa' will be the opening night film at IFFM 2022, for which both Anurag Kashyap and Taapsee Pannu would be traveling to Melbourne. Touted as a 'must-watch' through early screening across, the film's new-age and cutting edge narrative is being wholly loved and applauded all over the world.

Anurag Kashyap, said, "Excited to be showcasing our film and being elected as the opening night film for the Indian Film Festival of Melbourne. I have previously been to IFFM and have first hand seen the unison with which Indian films and film from the subcontinent are celebrated and showcased with much vigour. Dobaaraa is a special film for me as a filmmaker and I'm looking forward to showcasing it at this platform".

IFFM festival director, Mitu Bhowmik Lange adds, "At IFFM, we aim at providing a common platform for filmmakers from across the globe to showcase their talent and put forth the excellence of cinema from all over. The opening film of our main event is Anurag Kashyap's psychological thriller, 'Dobaaraa'. Being a fan of his work since silk route, I always look forward to his films, and this one was highly anticipated by me because of Taapsee as well, as I admire her work equally. It gives me great pride to showcase some of the finest talents of Indian cinema through 'Dobaaraa' at our film festival and I hope that this film gets appreciated by audiences worldwide upon its release!"

'Dobaaraa' is scheduled to be released worldwide on August 19. The film marks Kashyap and Pannu's third collaboration after the 2018 hit 'Manmarziyaan' and biographical drama 'Saand Ki Aankh' (2019), on which he served as producer. It also reunites her with 'Thappad' co-star Pavail Gulati. The film is jointly produced by Ektaa Kapoor's Cult Movies, a new division under Balaji Telefilms, and Sunir Kheterpal and Gaurav Bose's banner Athena.

exciting virtual programming." IFM festival director Mita Bhowmik Lange said. "To have with us a legendary cricketer, Kapil Dev in honour of a film based on his iconic 1983 World Cup win, we are excited to have him in Melbourne." He said the city was preparing to celebrate Indian cinema "in all its glory and diversity".

Mr Steve Dimopoulos, Minister for Tourism, Sport and Major Events said he is thrilled to launch the Festival. He welcomed the Bollywood movie legends to Melbourne stating that it is the cultural capital of Australia and home to its largest Indian diaspora.

The Victorian Government has backed the festival with $3 million in funding over the next three years - including $2.5 million in new funding from the 2022 budget.

The additional support will enable IFM to expand its awards program, introduce year-round screenings through IFM365 - while delivering the new My Melbourne initiative, a short film and mentoring initiative pairing local South Asian filmmakers with noted Indian film directors.

To mark the 75th anniversary of Indian independence on Saturday, thousands flooded the Federation Square for a flag-raising ceremony and a dancing Bollywood dance competition.

The 13th year of the Indian Film Festival of Melbourne was officially inaugurated by the start of Indian cinema on Friday, 12 August 2022.

After being online for two years, it is now being resumed physically from today. The festival will go on till August 20 in which several films will be screened. Abhishek Bachchan, Tapsee Pannu, Vaani Kapoor, Tamannaah Bhatia, Sheela Shah, singer Sana Mohapatra, Renuska Kishore, Kashyap, Kabir Khan, Apara Sen, Nikhil Advani and Shoojit Sircar were present during the official launch of the event.

Tapsee Pannu's film Dubaa was screened at the opening night of this festival. More than 120 films will be screened at the event apart from the special programs of the Independence Day celebrations.

Regarding this, Abhishek

Bachchan said, "Finally! I have come to Melbourne. I feel very happy coming here. Almost my entire family has represented India here. I am very proud of this. I am looking forward to be a part of all the celebrations and I thank the government and Mitu for bringing me here."

When asked about the issue of South vs Hindi film at the festival, Tamannaah said that "this conversation is unique only in India. Whenever travel abroad, I have never heard people discriminate, they call it Indian cinema."

The same is true in IFM. I think the audience wants to watch a pan-India film and a lot of such content is being created which is also being appreciated.

India shaping up its team for the World T20 cup

The ICC T20 World Cup 2022 is all set to kick off on October 8. Australia's fans are excited as the preparations for the mega-event have begun. All the teams have been working towards finding their perfect combination for the tournament. India did not have a great outing in the 2011 ICC T20 World Cup. They failed to qualify for the knockout of the tournament.

However, this year, the inaugural champions will be keen to win their second T20 World Champions title. The opening partnership will be key for India to set the momentum of the match at the ICC T20 World Cup. They have given opportunities to youngsters to showcase their abilities on the international stage while opening the innings. The Indian management has been trying out multiple combinations before the event.

India has been trying various opening combinations - for two reasons - the first is to accelerate the scoring in the power play and the second, most importantly, to Virat Kohli on the side. Indian skipper Rohit Sharma will definitely be opening the innings for the team at the ICC T20 World Cup 2022 unless an injury scare rules him out. He has been one of the best 40-format players for India at the moment.

The 34-year-old also has a good record while opening the innings for India. He averages 31.51, including four centuries at the top of the batting order. Along with Rohit Sharma, KL Rahul is likely to be the opener for India. He has been out of action for a while after undergoing a sports hernia surgery and then testing positive for the virus. Talking about his record while opening the innings, KL Rahul has scored 1392 runs in 38 matches, including 518 runs in half-centuries.

Surprisingly for many, Rohit Pant has opened the innings for India a couple of times this year. But, the experiment has so far not paid off for the Indian team. He has not been able to make much of an impact batting up the order. In two matches, the left-handed batter has scored 27 runs at an average of 13.50.

However, Rohit Pant is a brilliant T20 batter and is a match-winner for India. Many former cricketers and experts have opined that the wicket-keeper batter will prosper for India while opening the batting in T20s. It allows him to take on the bowlers and set the game for India, while Rohit Sharma can play the second innings from the other end.

With 21 matches under their belt, India have played more T20s among all nations this year. In this period, they have fielded 27 players, the most by a side. In the five-match T20 series against West Indies alone, they tried 17 players. In the three T20s in England in order to that, they played 19 players. The intention behind this high number of T20 fixtures has always been clear - to try out the fringe players in the bid to frame the most efficient squad for the World T20 Cup.

However, with the conclusion of the T20s in West Indies, India World Cup preparations are set to enter a new phase. The 2022 Asia Cup provides a golden opportunity to assess the merit of the full-strength squad in a multi-team tournament. It should also be their last T20 series tournament before they have to announce their squad for the World Cup Down Under. Hence, the 2022 Asia Cup squad can be termed as a teaser for the showpiece event in Australia.

As anticipated, the likes of KL Rahul and Virat Kohli are back in the side. Barring Jasprit Bumrah and Hardik Pandya, both unavailable due to injuries, India will field their strongest side in a long time. Ravichandran Ashwin's selection for the 2021 World Cup after a four-year long isolation from the format surprised many. But his return made sense. Being the only conventional off-spinner in contention, Ashwin was picked to tackle left-handed heavy batting line-ups. Also, the tournament was held in UAE so India could afford an extra spinner. But the team's poor campaign curtailed his return. With the 2022 World Cup approaching, Ashwin made another return for the West Indies T20s. In between, the only T20 cricket he played was IPL 2022. Ashwin managed 12 wickets in 17 matches. He averaged 41.9 but picked wickets at crucial junctures. He also harboured an impressive economy of 7.5 runs per over. The question is if Ashwin has done enough to boost the fight to Australia for the World Cup. In three T20s versus West Indies, Ashwin picked three wickets for 80 runs. He is an economical option but the strike-rate of 31.6 suggests he might not be a wicket-taking asset. The Australian conditions will also mean India on playing an extra seamer.

Ashwin's selection for the Asia Cup hints that the management is eyeing him as an option for the World Cup. What works in his favor is his reinvention as a T20 all-rounder. Ashwin scored 191 runs in the 2022 IPL (average 27.3, strike-rate 141.5). Knowing India are looking at bowlers who can contribute with the bat, Ashwin holds decent chances of featuring in another World Cup.

Shreyas Iyer has been a part of every India squad this year. He passed every task with flying colours in the first half. In the second, he has slipped down in the pecking order. Iyer mustered a century 64 in the last T20I versus West Indies. In nine T20I innings prior to that, he scored only 156 runs, averaging 19.5 at a strike-rate of 110.8. His vulnerability against pace was apparent and can hamper him further in Australia. He is selected for the Asia Cup only as a standby which is a reflection of his diminished World Cup prospects. Meanwhile, Deepak Hooda has risen up the ranks in these three months. Besides his batting, Hooda can also deliver an over or two of off-spin. He, all-round package has become a necessity in modern-day white-ball cricket.

Australia have Glenn Maxwell, Steve Smith, and Cameron Maxwell. South Africa have Aiden Markram. Hooda can do a similar role to Glenn Maxwell, creating pressure on both Iyer and Ashwin. A good Asia Cup for Hooda can grant him the ticket to Australia, at the expense of both these names.

With all players in contention for the World Cup, Arshdeep Singh was the last to get his series award winning performance in West Indies, the left-arm seamer. He has been overlooked in the reckoning. Arshdeep has nine wickets in six T20s that far at an economy of 6.3, thus killing two birds with one stone. The 23-year-old can bring the new ball as well as bowl economical yorkers at the death.

Since Kamran's return to the national side, he and Pant have featured in three series together. However, it is a little surprising between the T20I batting numbers of these two since IPL 2022. While Kamran has provided invaluable finishes at the back end of the innings, Pant's high number of right-handers in the middle-order.

Jadeja is another left-handed option but he gives more against spin elevate the value of Pant. The choice between the two will be tough but whoever gets picked in India's opening fixture of the Asia Cup will most probably hold the upper hand for a spot in the World Cup XI.

Sona also had the joy of performing live in Melbourne shares, "I had the most memorable experience while performing at the iconic and century-old Palais theatre which has seen the performances of legends like Bob Hope, Harry Belafonte, Louis Armstrong, Eartha Kitt, AC/DC and INXS amongst others. There is no greater blessing or privilege than knowing that I stood on the same stage as these musical greats. Performing my 2007 collaboration with the Aussie band INXS brought the house down with local ministers & the governor & premiere in attendance at the IIFM awards ceremony. I also paid a small tribute to the nightingale of India; Lata Mangeshkar by singing one of her toughest songs aCapella; Kuhu Kuhu Bole Koyalia ."

'Shut Up Sona', directed by Deepti Gupta and produced by Sona herself revolves around the events following a legal notice sent to the singer where she was accused of blasphemy for wearing an 'obscene' attire while singing devotional songs. The film is also a celebration of her indomitable spirit and music and her undying passion for truth-telling and standing up for what is right.

The documentary has also received a National Award for editing in 2021, the Film Critics Guild Award Special Mention at MAMI, Impact Docs Award US, and the Best Documentary Award, IndieMeme amongst others.

Minister for Creative Industries Steve Dimopoulos has visited Myrtleford Memorial Hall in Northern Victoria, one of eight spaces across the state that will be upgraded for use by local creatives and communities, through the million-dollar Creative Neighbourhood Infrastructure Support Program (LGA category).

A $150,000 grant will help breathe new life into Myrtleford's iconic memorial hall which has sat dormant for over 10 years.

The funding will enable Alpine Shire to bring the hall up to current building and accessibility standards, refurbish the auditorium and upgrade the digital infrastructure, transforming the much-loved building into a creative hub for the local arts community.

The Creative Neighbourhood Infrastructure Support Program is about providing artists and creatives with facilities where they can create or present their work, providing new opportunities for them to earn an income and opening up and enlivening creative spaces for the community.

Through partnerships with local government, the program will develop better and more accessible infrastructure for creative industries across the state.

Other funding recipients span regional Victoria and metropolitan Melbourne, from the activation of a former energy plant building in Dandenong, to the rejuvenation of the Jubilee Hall in Horsham, to converting a shipping container into a mobile exhibition and performance space for the Strathbogie region.

The full list of recipients includes:

- Alpine Shire Council: $150,000 for the Myrtleford Memorial Hall Revival Stage 2

The Myrtleford Memorial Hall Revival Project will redevelop and reactivate Myrtleford's iconic hall which has sat dormant for over 10 years. The project will restore the hall to current building and accessibility standards, refurbish the auditorium and upgrade the digital infrastructure, which will make the building fit for purpose and deliver a creative hub for the local arts community.

- Corangamite Shire Council: $60,000 for the Mobile Cinema Upgrade

The Mobile Cinema Upgrade program will make upgraded digital screening equipment available for use by local creatives and provide better access for local communities to shared cultural and creative experiences and activities.

- City of Greater Dandenong: $150,000 for the Precinct Energy Plant Building – Interim Creative Activation

The project will fit out the ground floor of the former Precinct Energy Plant building to activate the space and make it available for the production and presentation of creative work across a range of artforms. The industrial nature of the building allows for experimental and large-scale creative exploration.

- Horsham Rural City Council: $150,000 for the Jubilee Hall Rejuvenation

Jubilee Hall Rejuvenation will see a currently under-utilized Council owned facility fully reinvigorated and reactivated with some internal design and amenity improvements. This will occur via a co-designed process with existing and new tenants.

- Melbourne City Council: $150,000 for the CBD Vertical Hub for the Creative Sector

City of Melbourne, through its Creative Spaces program, will establish a new creative hub by taking a long-term lease on a CBD building, refurbishing its spaces and filling the building with arts organisations and creative practitioners.

- Mildura Rural City Council: $70,000 for the Digital Activation - Powerhouse Infrastructure Project

New outdoor digital infrastructure and equipment will enable local creatives to showcase their digital works to the community, visitors and an online audience, and create new revenue opportunities.

- Southern Grampians Shire Council: $150,000 for the Hamilton Performing Arts Centre (HPAC) Auditorium Seating

The Handbury Auditorium accommodates 500 patrons with tiered seating. The current seating is over thirty years old and does not meet accessibility requirements.

This project will upgrade the seating to contemporary standards and make the auditorium accessible for people with a disability.

- Shire of Strathbogie: $104,000 for the ARTBOX mobile exhibition

ARTBOX is a new mobile exhibition and performance space that will utilise a converted 20ft high shipping container for creative activity. It will be located on various sites throughout the shire making creative experiences more accessible to the community and reducing barriers to participation.

Minister for Creative Industries, Steve Dimpoulos, said: “Victoria is the creative state, home to more than 300,000 creative industries workers. These projects not only support creative jobs and activities, they breath new life into amazing historic buildings like Myrtleford Memorial Hall.

“This program is just one of the ways we are supporting our talented creatives across the state, while enlivening our neighbourhoods and regions for the benefit of the whole community.”

The Creative Neighbourhood Infrastructure Support Program is an action of the Victorian Government’s $288 million Creative State 2025 strategy. It addresses the shortage of fit-for-purpose, accessible and secure creative workspaces, while creating vibrant creative hubs across Victoria.

INDIAN FILM FESTIVAL OF MELBOURNE 2022

The award for best actress went to Shefali Shah for 'Jalsa', while Ranveer won best actor award for '83'

Sports drama '83' and thriller movie 'Jalsa' were the top winners at the Indian Film Festival of Melbourne (IFFM) Awards 2022, the organisers said recently.

According to the organisers, the award ceremony was hosted by Rithvik Dhanjani and took place at the iconic Palais Theatre in Melbourne on August 14.

Kabir Khan was named the best director for '83', which also won the award for the best film.

It was a triple feat for '83' as the event saw Ranveer Singh winning the best actor award for playing the role of Indian skipper Kapil Dev in the movie which chronicled India men's cricket team's journey to winning the 1983 World Cup trophy.

Singh thanked the IFFM jury members for bestowing him with the honour for '83', which he described as 'one of the most loved films in my career'.

The award for best actress went to Shefali Shah for 'Jalsa' and the Suresh Triveni-directed film was honoured with the 'Equality in Cinema' prize. 'Jalsa', which was released on 'Prime Video', explored themes of social disparities and moral corruption.

While Shoojit Sircar ('Sardar Udham') and Aparna Sen ('The Rapist') were adjudged joint winners in the best director category, Bollywood star Abhishek Bachchan won the 'Leadership in Cinema' award.

"I thank IFFM for giving me the 'Leadership in Cinema' award. I am extremely ecstatic about being considered for this prestigious award by the Victorian Government and the film festival. Even though this award is not for the best actor, I am very much certain to come back to the festival soon enough for the best actor award too as I am certain I'll soon get it," Bachchan said.

Vaani Kapoor won the 'Disruptor in Cinema' award for 'Chandigarh Kare Aashiqui', in which she played the role of a trans woman.

Winning the award was a 'special and surreal' feeling, said Kapoor.

"It's so special and kind of the Indian Film Festival of Melbourne and Mitu to recognise such a film and give so much dignity, respect and love and accept it and to have a great inclusion of 'Chandigarh Kare Aashiqui' in a film festival," she added.

Tamannaah's respect for culture wins hearts

✕ The actress stepped forward when she was called by her colleague Taapsee Pannu, who had lit part of the wicks in the lamp. She removed her footwear, and lit remaining wicks, standing barefoot on the dais.

When a woman nearby commented, Tamannaah explained that it was a part of South Indian culture.

"This is what South has taught her...", "Wow, small things matter... great gesture by Tamannaah," and "She is showing her culture, the rich heritage of India, bless you Tamannaah," were some of the comments the actress received.

बुसान के बाद मेलबर्न में 'द रेपिस्ट' को मिला पुरस्कार

मुंबई (आईएनएस)। अपर्णा सेन की हर तरफ प्रशंसा हो रही है क्योंकि उनके निर्देशन में बनी फिल्म 'द रेपिस्ट' ने उन्हें मेलबर्न के भारतीय फिल्म समारोह में 2022 के लिए सर्वश्रेष्ठ निर्देशक के पुरस्कार से सम्मानित कराया। 'द रेपिस्ट' ने

■ अपर्णा सेन के निर्देशन में बनी है फिल्म 'द रेपिस्ट'

इससे पहले बुसान में प्रतिष्ठित किम जिसियोक पुरस्कार जीता था जिसे सर्वश्रेष्ठ समय के

रूप में वर्णित किया जा सकता है, 'द रेपिस्ट' जो अलॉज एंटरटेनमेंट की पहली फीचर फिल्म परियोजना है, प्रतिष्ठित समारोह में एक बड़ी जीत के साथ घर आई।

इस कठिन फिल्म के लिए अपर्णा सेन को 'सर्वश्रेष्ठ निर्देशक' का पुरस्कार मिला। उसकी टोपी में एक और पंख जोड़ना, जीत और भी खास थी क्योंकि यह भारत की आजादी के 75 वें वर्ष के साथ मेल खाती थी। बुसान इंटरनेशनल फिल्म फेस्टिवल, लंदन इंडियन फिल्म फेस्टिवल, कोलकाता इंटरनेशनल फिल्म फेस्टिवल, केरल के इंटरनेशनल फिल्म फेस्टिवल सहित त्योहारों में मनाए जाने के बाद, 'द रेपिस्ट' को अगस्त में मेलबर्न के भारतीय फिल्म समारोह में प्रदर्शित किया गया था। 'द रेपिस्ट' बलात्कार की शारीरिक रचना, इसके अपराधियों के मानस और उसके बाद के अनुभव की एक सोची-समझी परीक्षा है। यह नाटक राष्ट्रीय पुरस्कार विजेता मिस्टर एंड मिसेज अय्यर सहित कई प्रशंसित फिल्मों के बाद अपर्णा सेन-कोंकणा सेन शर्मा की मां-बेटी की जोड़ी के पुनर्मिलन को भी चिह्नित करता है।

मेलबर्न में अवॉर्ड किसी को भी मिले, जीतेगी तो कोई फीमेल स्टार ही: शेफाली 'मुझे ओटीटी का लेडी अमिताभ कहना सही नहीं, मुझे नहीं लगता कोई उनके जैसा है'

शेफाली शाह की हाल ही में फिल्म 'डार्लिंग्स' ओटीटी पर रिलीज हुई है। इससे पहले फिल्म 'जलसा' मेलबर्न के फिल्म फेस्टिवल में नॉमिनेट हुई थी। इस बारे में उन्होंने दैनिक भास्कर के साथ बातचीत की।

INTERVIEW

अमित कर्णा मुंबई

मेलबर्न फिल्म फेस्टिवल में शिरकत को लेकर कितनी एक्साइटेड हैं?

बहुत ज्यादा एक्साइटेड हूं। न सिर्फ उस कद के इंटरनेशनल फेस्टिवल, बल्कि जो भी फेस्टिवल वर्ल्ड सिनेमा दिखाता है, उसका जरूरी हिस्सा बनना बड़ा एक्साइटिंग होता है। वह इसलिए कि जितनी मेहनत, शिद्दत फिल्म बनाने में जाती है, ऐसे फेस्टिवलों में उन्हें वर्ल्ड लेवल की स्वीकार्यता मिल जाती है। हमारी 'जलसा' उस फेस्टिवल की फ्लैगशिप फिल्म है। कई कैटेगरी में उसे नॉमिनेशन मिला है।

■ इसका कद बर्लिन या टोरंटो फिल्म फेस्टिवलों के मुकाबले कैसा पा रही हैं?

फेस्टिवलों को आपस में क्यों कंपेयर करें? कोई रेस थोड़ी न है ये? यहाँ जैसे तीन इवेंट हैं। साथ ही ऑडियंस के साथ एक ओपन माहक डिस्कशन है। उसका टॉपिक सिनेमा में समावेशित है। एक अवॉर्ड नाइट भी है, जिसमें हम लोग साथ होंगे। इस फेस्टिवल में हम लोग साथ में बहुत मजे करेंगे। उसको लेकर भी बहुत एक्साइटेड हूं।

■ आलिया और विद्या की पर्सनालिटी से जुड़ी कोई अनूठी बातें शेयर कर सकें। जो आपने ऑब्जर्व की हो?

आलिया और विद्या दोनों ही इन्फ्लुइन्सर्स हैं। आलिया इतनी यंग, बेहद फोक्सड और इतनी उत्साही हैं कि क्या कहा जाए? आलिया सिर्फ अपनी परफॉरमेंस ही नहीं, वो इंटरव्यू फिल्म मेकिंग में बहुत ज्यादा इन्वॉल्व रहती हैं। आलिया को पता रहता है कि कैमरा किस एंगल पर होना चाहिए या कैमरे में कौन सा लेंस यूज हुआ है, वह पता होता है

■ जलसा में आपने अपने कैरेक्टर रुखसाना का प्रिपरेशन कैसे किया था?

इसके उलट मेरा तर्क तो यह है कि बिना रफॉरेस लिए आप किरदार को कुछ यूँ बनाओ कि वह एक इंडिपेंडेंट और इंडिविजुअल इंसान सा हो जाए। इसके डायरेक्टर सुरेश त्रिवेणी हैं। बेहद सेंसिटिव क्रिएटिव इंसान हैं। मैं उनकी बहुत रिस्पेक्ट करती हूँ। रुखसाना के तौर पर उन्होंने काफी कमाल का किरदार क्रिएट किया। उसे हमने रियल बनाया। लोगों को महसूस करवाया कि वो हमारे आसपास की ही हैं। कहीं भी शेफाली की झलक नहीं आने दी, क्योंकि जलसा बेहद रॉ फिल्म है। कोई भी इमोशन दिखावटी नहीं है। हमने एक नंगा सच रखा है।

■ क्या हम कह सकते हैं कि शेफाली के रूप में ओटीटी को लेडी अमिताभ बच्चन मिला है?

अमित जी बहुत बड़ी उपमा हैं। मुझे नहीं लगता कोई अमिताभ बच्चन हो सकता है। अभी मेरे आने वाले प्रोजेक्ट्स में 26 अगस्त को 'दिल्ली क्राइम 2' रिलीज होगी। फिर 'डॉक्टर जी' में कैमियो है। एक और प्रोजेक्ट है, उसमें जयदीप अहलावत और स्वानंद किरकिरे साथ काम कर रही हूँ। इसे मराठी के नेशनल अवॉर्ड विनर अविनाश अरुण ने डायरेक्ट किया है, जो अगले साल तक रिलीज होगी।

Vaani Kapoor launches the trailer of Pragya Kapoor' film 'Maali' at IIFM

New Delhi

Actress Vaani Kapoor recently launched the astounding trailer of Pragya Kapoor's upcoming film 'Maali' at the prestigious Indian Film Festival of Melbourne.

In addition to receiving a much positive response from the audience, the touching trailer also rendered everyone speechless with its sobering message regarding deforestation and mental health.

The journey of 16-year-old Tulsi from the tranquil highlands to the bustling city is chronicled in Maali, as is her struggle after becoming aware of the avarice, loneliness, and melancholy that characterise urban life as well as the detrimental effects of deforestation on our physical and mental well-being.

Vaani Kapoor while launching the trailer said, "It has been an immense pleasure working with Pragya. Her films have always had an important message. Having worked with her on 'Chandigarh Kare Aashiqui' which also had a social message, 'Maali' too highlights alarming issues that we are facing around us, which need to be addressed and given more attention. The trailer of Maali looks incredible and we should all support and watch such meaningful content."

Prior to the filmfare, Ranveer Singh won The Indian Film Festival of Melbourne (IFF)

actor prize for his work in “83.” 83, directed by Kabir Khan, is based on India’s historic 1983 Cricket World Cup. The following roles were played: Ranveer Singh plays Kaptan, the 1983 Cricket World Cup-winning team’s captain. In the movie, Deepika also had a minor but significant part as Pooja Bhatia, Kapil Dev’s wife. She was a co-producer as well. The movie 83, which was finally released in theatres after numerous setbacks caused by the COVID-19 pandemic, may perform as well as the box office. The film made a total of Rs 193 crore worldwide.

Ranveer's most recent film, Jayeshbhai Jordaar, struggled at the box office. He will then star in Cirkus, a dual-character movie by Rohit Shetty. The filming of Rocky Aur Rani Ki Prem, which would be Karan Johar's return to directing, has also been completed. Alia Bhatt, Bachchan, Dharmendra, and Shabana Azmi are also included. Deepika's next two films are Fighter and Fighter, both starring Siddharth Anand.

On the stage, Ranveer mentioned how he and Vicky Kaushal are often mocked for marrying Deepika Padukone and Katrina Kaif, respectively. He said, “After all, we both are tall, dark and handsome. Both of us are living our own fairy tales (marrying Deepika Padukone and Katrina Kaif). People tell us ‘woh dono humare aukaat se bahar hai (Both of them are out of our league)’.”

Ranveer received several accolades for his performance in 83. Prior to winning the Filmfare Award, he had won the award for Best Actor at The Indian Film Festival of Melbourne (IFFM) 2022. Directed by Kabir Khan, 83 was released in theatres in December after several delays. However, owing to the third wave of the COVID-19 pandemic, the film could not perform up to expectations and could only rake in around Rs 193 crore worldwide. Ranveer was last seen in Jayeshbhai Jordaar, which also did not perform well at the box office. His upcoming films include Karan Johar's Rocky Aur Rani Ki Prem Kahani and Rohit Shetty's Cirkus. Meanwhile, Deepika has Fighter, starring Hrithik Roshan, in the pipeline.

The 67th Filmfare Awards ceremony, which was held at Mumbai's Jio World Convention Centre, on Tuesday night honoured actors, actresses, directors, musicians, and technicians for their work in Bollywood in the past year.

Vicky Kaushal's 'Sardar Udham' was one of the most loved films at the awards ceremony. Add to this, the actor was seen with wife, actor Katrina Kaif, at the Filmfare Awards. He also took home a trophy for his performance in 'Sardar Udham' as he was awarded as the Best Actor (Critics' choice).

While Katrina and Vicky did not walk the red carpet together, they were seen hand in hand inside the venue. He even kissed her as his film 'Sardar Udham' won big. While Kat looked stunning in a saree, Vicky looked dapper in a blingy tuxedo.

edition of the prestigious Zlin Film Festival in the Czech Republic, it has now screened at Melbourne and Toronto. The Manish Saini directorial was screened at the Indian Film Festival of Melbourne (IFFM) and the International Film Festival of South Asia Toronto.

Says Mahesh Danannavar "For a regional children's film to be screened at so many prestigious international film festivals is a huge honour. I feel the film's universal appeal is rooted in its simplicity and wholesomeness. Also, the overarching theme of Gandhian idealism is a huge draw and continues to win over hearts and minds wherever the film is screened."

He says the success of the film both at home and at international forums owes a lot to the way Gandhian ideas are presented. Even though the film explores a serious theme, it does so with humour and without being preachy.

Director Manish Saini says, "Kids and adults have loved the film equally and have been entertained and moved by it. On the surface, it is a story of two 11-year-olds who don't really know much about what Gandhi represents. Later, through an influential adult, they begin to find out more about Gandhi, and the film transitions into a depth that the children and the audiences had not anticipated. It has truly been an honour to tell this story and to see it going places."

'Gandhi & Co' also won the second-best Indian film award at the Bengaluru International Film Festival and the Best Children Film honour at the International Gujarati Film Festival (IGFF) 2022. The film stars Darshan Jariwala, Jayesh More, Druma Mehta, Hiranya Zinzuwadia, Shah Reyaan, and Dhyani Jani.

Mural artists Shanthi Muniswamy and Prarthana from the Aravani Art Project in a still from the documentary, Kathegala Kanive. | Photo Credit: Vikas Badiger

'Kathegala Kanive' (Valley of Stories), a short documentary directed by Vikas Badiger, is making its international premiere this month at the Indian Film Festival of Melbourne

When mural artist Shanthi Muniswamy was handed a digital camera, the one image she really wanted to capture was that of a bougainvillea, resplendent in the sunrise. For a '90s child like her, the flower held the charm, innocence and nostalgia of a bygone Bengaluru.

“I live in Marathahalli and go for a walk every morning on the bridge, which boasts of a gorgeous bougainvillea plant. But right behind it, you can see a skyscraper which is a recent addition and anachronistic to the 90s. So, I woke up at 5 am and waited for the right light to shoot the photo, with a tight focus on the flower and the skyscraper silhouetted in the background,” says Shanthi.

The journey to many such photographs shot by Shanthi and other transgender artists of the Aravani Art Project finds a place in Kathegala Kanive (Valley of Stories), a documentary directed by Vikas Badiger. The 30-minute film is making its international premiere this month at the Indian Film Festival of Melbourne. Previously, it had bagged the best documentary award at the Madras Independent Film festival.

A collaborative project

The Aravani Art Project, a transwomen and cis-women led art collective, was founded by Poornima Sukumar to address the discrimination faced by the LGBTQIA+ community and create safe spaces for them through art. As part of their continued attempt to reclaim public spaces, Aravani collaborated with Kanike Studios on a photography project that was funded by a grant from the India Foundation for The Arts.

It is this process that Vikas documents with measured restraint, never letting his camera overshadow the ones in the hands of the women – a very conscious decision, he says.

Vikas Badiger, director of the short documentary, Kathegala Kanive, and founder of the Instagram community, Faces of Bengaluru.

“I wanted to be as authentic as possible without taking away from the story they want to tell. So even before I switched on the camera, I’d ask which angle they preferred or what they wanted to share that day before shooting,” he says.

This was not the first time the women were interacting with Vikas, though. They knew him from an earlier photo series he had done on them for Faces of Bengaluru, Vikas’ Instagram page that profiles people from the city.

“There is very little non-fiction content in Kannada, and more specifically about Bengaluru. When Poornima called me about documenting this, I thought ‘Why not bring both together?’ Moreover, I had not worked with photographers from the trans community, so a lot of factors aligned,” says Vikas.

Connection despite the city

The theme of the project was to explore the trans community’s connection with Bengaluru. However, the documentary does not romanticise Bengaluru through the lens of Aravani’s transwomen. On the contrary, it only makes the viewer more acutely aware of the city’s ability to “other” its marginalised population.

As the women learn the nitty-gritties of handling a digital camera, a gadget as alien to them as the city once was, we also see them rediscovering those aspects of Bengaluru that has kept them here. What we get are stories of love, unexpected friendships, nostalgia, acceptance, desire and resilience that these transwomen have forged despite the city.

A gaze reversed

The project's objective was to impart an employable skill to the transwomen who do not have any formal education. However, it also achieved something much more remarkable – it subverted the gaze.

“Generally, people take our photos, ask our life histories and leave. When the camera came into our hands, it not only gave us immense power to turn the lens on others, for a change, but also gave us an opportunity to control our own narratives,” says Shanthi.

She also saw how reclaiming public spaces through art – where they are most vulnerable, fearing attack and humiliation – altered people’s perspectives. “As soon as people saw the camera, their curiosity was aroused. Whether I was clicking a paper delivery boy or a flower vendor, their first question was if I was from the media,” she adds.

Focus on non-fiction content

Through the course of the shoot, Vikas observed what a boost of confidence the camera gave the women. He hopes Kathegala Kanive will spark a conversation. “I want to normalise being respectful, cordial and friendly with them. It is not just enough to have a Pride Month without working towards it all year round. In localities where they stay, these women are treated with respect. But I’m yet to see public spaces that are actually inclusive and welcoming of all transgender people.”

As a filmmaker, Vikas wants people to engage with more non-fiction content and points to his recent work The Spirit Circle, a documentary on ultimate frisbee – the world’s only mixed gender sport – currently streaming on Apple TV.

“There is a huge dearth of quality non-fiction content from India. I’d urge people to watch as well as actively involve themselves in creating non-fiction work centred around South India, especially Bengaluru.”

IFFM: A Glitzy, Ritzy, Starry Affair!

After a hiatus of two years, thanks to the COVID-19 pandemic, the Indian Film Festival of Melbourne (IFFM) was back with a bang. Celebrating its 13th year, the festival boasted an array of Bollywood's hip and happening stars, including the suave and witty Abhishek Bachchan, the stunning Vaani Kapoor and Tamannah, the extremely talented duo of Shefali Shah and Taapsee Pannu.

Accompanying them were directors like Nikhil Advani (of Kal Ho Na Ho fame), Shoojit Sarcar (of Piku fame) and Anurag Kashyap (of Dobaaraa fame), producers, singers including the lady with the booming voice Sona Mohapatra.

IFFM is the brainchild of Mitu Bhowmick-Lange, and anyone that has met her once, knows she has a brilliant vision that is matched with tremendous enthusiasm. Despite the pandemic and lockdown creating so many hurdles in 2020 and 2021, she found a way out and the last IFFM was held online. This year, it was even more special, given it was the 75th anniversary of Indian Independence. What better way to celebrate Azadi ka Amrit Mahotsav, than to have a flurry of Bollywood's finest here in our very own Melbourne!

But the IFFM is so much more than just a party, it is a medium where independent and upcoming movie makers are also appreciated, including local talent from Australia. This time, for the first time, there was a movie which had Pakistani actors and crew. 'Joyland' made for an amazing watch, especially because of its plot. Hats off to the young film-makers, who have shown ample courage to make a movie on a subject that is not easily discussed in a lot of communities as yet. Other movies like Maali, Paraasathi, Maasa Bad omen, Jaggi and Dobaaraa, and documentaries like Shut Up Sona, Women of my billion (WOMB) and Ayena, were only some of the highlights in the 9 day extravaganza... which was a treat to any movie lover.

Right from the opening night to the press conference, from the wonderful chat sessions with the celebrities, hosted by the talk show extraordinaire Rajeev Masand, to the Awards night, there was something for everyone. Who can forget, the flag hoisting by the legendary Kapil Dev and Abhishek Bachchan, followed by the customary dance competition which saw entries from local dance enthusiasts...absolute fun....right here in Melbourne.

As the Victorian Minister for Creative Industries, Minister for Tourism, Sport and Major Events, Mr Steve Dimopoulos rightly said, the IFFM has become a medium to unite the two countries Australia and India on a whole different level. This year, especially with the legendary Kapil Dev being present here for the movie '83, the two countries were united on two fronts, Sports and Arts!

Watching the enthusiasm of the audience that attended, and hearing how the Bollywood fraternity that attended loved Melbourne, I could not help but think that we may have truly overcome the pandemic fatigue that had set in. It felt good, to be back in our beautiful Melbourne city, to have Bollywood stars come to Australia, to have audiences back for live shows and performances, to watch movies in theatres again, and to feel like life is back to 'normal' again. Thank you IFFM, and looking forward to attending the next one in 2023!

Indian Film Festival of Melbourne celebrated with much fanfare!!

The Indian Film Festival 2022 was held in Melbourne from August 12th through August 20th.

Each year the festival brings the biggest names from Bollywood, and as the festival was viewed online the last couple of years due to COVID, this year the festival returned to Melbourne with a star studded line-up.

The Indian Film Festival in Melbourne has been my annual pilgrimage since 2017. The festival returning to Melbourne was something I knew I was not going to miss, and I took my dancing shoes, excitement and expectations to Melbourne for the start of the festival. As always, the festival director, Mitu Bhowmick Lange, put up a solid set of guests for the festival. This year notables were Abhishek Bachchan, Shefali Shah, Vaani Kapoor, Taapsee Pannu, Anurag Kashyap, Kabir Khan, Mohit Raina, Nikkhil Advani, Kapil Dev and many more.

The festival opened up on August 12th with a media press conference at the picturesque 360 degrees views of Melbourne at 55 Collins Street. The ambiance was unlike any other, with everyone happy to be back travelling post pandemic and you could just feel the excitement in the air. As the interview process started, I was not going to miss the chance to speak with Abhishek Bachchan and he didn't disappoint. As a lot of actors are turning to OTT platforms, my discussion with Abhishek took us through to a new upcoming season of Breathe: Into the Shadows. If speaking with Abhishek Bachchan wasn't enough, I struck up a great conversation with the beautiful Vaani Kapoor. As Delhi girls, we both had a lot

to talk about but my focus was on her breakthrough roles she chooses that put her ahead of the rest of the pack.

The festival takes over various venues in Melbourne. The opening night was at Hoyts Docklands and that is where the festival officially opened to the general public as we lit up the ceremonial lamp to begin the festival followed right by the festival director's welcome message. The significance of the ceremonial lamp is to bring warmth, positivity and light which was a recurring theme throughout the festival. This followed up with the screening of the ground-breaking thriller film starring Taapsee Pannu and directed by master filmmaker Anurag Kashyap's, Dobaaraa. After the film, there was a Q&A with the brilliant minds behind the film giving us insights on the making of the film and also how the trend in Bollywood is shifting and audiences are craving for wide array of topics.

If opening day press conference and the premier of Taapsee Pannu's Dobaaraa was any indication of what was to come, it was going to be celebrations of India's 75th Independence Day. Melbourne is arguably the capital city when it comes to having the most Indian migrants in an Australian city. The crowds came in bulk to witness the flag hoisting by none other than Indian Cricket legend Kapil Dev and Bollywood superstar Abhishek Bachchan as they hoisted the tricolour at the iconic Federation Square in the heart of Melbourne. If that wasn't enough, the Dance competition was what was needed to overcome the Melbourne wintry blues. The panel of judges included the pan-Indian star Tamannaah Bhatia, singer Sona Mohapatra and 2020 Miss Universe Australia Maria Thattil. The jury had their hands full as the crowd looked on and saw many dance performances that made deciding the winner almost impossible. The atmosphere was nostalgic as the crowd was dancing to beats from almost every corner of India, and a special surprise when Sona Mohapatra took the stage and captivated the audience with her lyrics. The crowd was then treated to Indian cinema by watching, 83; the journey leading the Indian National Cricket Team to victory in 1983 World Cup directed by Kabir Khan.

While Federation Square was rocking, there was by far my favourite event of the festival happening across the bridge at The Arts Centre. The intimate conversations led by moderator and film critic Rajeev Masand is one that I make sure I never miss. The afternoon is spent listening to some of our favourite mainstream Bollywood Actors, Producers and Directors. The afternoon kicked off with one of my favourite actresses Shefali Shah and the Jalsa team. It is safe to say that Indian cinema is making giant strides towards diverse, inclusive and complex storytelling through these trailblazing films.

As the world evolves, we have ushered in many changes in the industry, one of them is how streaming services have become a new way of watching cinema. As filmmakers focus on highly nuanced and complex stories steeped in realism and they tackle themes such as pride, disability, and much more. We have seen a huge transformation as with OTT platforms the industry moves toward independent productions and evolving stories that were never touched before. To help us talk through the transition Rajeev Masand had a conversation with Tamannaah Bhatia, Nikkhil Advani the director of 26/11, Shoojit Sircar the director of Sardar Udham and the Joyland team. It is safe to say that OTT platforms are here to stay and if anything, it has opened doors for many writers, directors and producers to let the general public hear their stories.

How lucky were we for the next segment of the chats as Actress Vaani Kapoor taking centre stage. It was incredible to see this mainstream actress break conventions by playing a strong trans dance teacher in Chandigarh Kare Aashiqui and then going to her next blockbuster Shamsheera, where she displayed her versatility and her acting prowess. As she proves herself as one of the most exciting actresses in India by choosing unexpected roles and leaving everyone in awe with her dance moves, it was a fantastic conversation with her as we uncovered her amazing career thus far. It was even better for me as we had shared several moments backstage and I really got a chance to know Vaani up, close and personal which reaffirmed my stance, which is that she is a superstar in the making.

As the Saturday festivities came to a close, IFFM definitely saved the best for last. The Indian mega star, Abhishek Bachchan took the stage as we discussed his award-winning performances, his status in the film industry and his loveable personality that has been praised by audiences and critics throughout his career. Always dressed to impress, I was in awe with his fashion sense at the same time his lovely personality. He spoke to the audience genuinely and taught us that there is no job too big or small when it comes to acting. His struggles that he faced were real despite being the Son of Amitabh Bachchan, there were no shortcuts.

The evening came to an end with interviews, and I was lucky enough to have some exclusive time with these stars. I had the luxury to share coffee, laughs and smiles with these industry professionals, and making memories that will definitely last a lifetime as I make my way through this huge industry we call Bollywood.

Opening weekend was coming to an end, but not before clearly the most anticipated night of the festival; the Awards show. Picture coming up to Palais Theatre in St Kilda, and you can hear the drums, trumpets and see the glitz & glamour as stars make their way through the Red Carpet. Yes, it was pure nostalgia and that cold windy chilly Melbourne night was heated up as everyone dressed to impress. The packed theatre had loads of surprises, performances and emotions that you just had to be there to feel. Shefali Shah took home the Best Actress Award for Jalsa, Ranveer Singh was the Best Actor for portraying living Cricket Legend Kapil Dev in '83. Vaani Kapoor took home the Disruptor award for her ground breaking roles in movies that only the bold can achieve, and lastly the Leadership in cinema award for Abhishek Bachchan was timely for the work that he has done in the Industry and continues to do.

Overall, my visit to IFFM 2022 far exceeded my expectations. Watching Melbourne transform into mini Bollywood for 8 days was something out of a movie. As part of the entertainment industry hype is created, but IFFM proved once again that hype can be organic. As we look at 2023 and what the festival will look like, it is only fitting that I choose to live in the moment.

Superstar Rajinikanth has begun shooting for his next, Jailer, in Chennai. The film, directed by Nelson Dilipkumar, is said to be an action-packed entertainer where Rajinikanth is likely to play the jailer. Now, a new picture from the shooting spot has surfaced on the internet in which the Superstar is seen along with a child.

While Rajinikanth is seen writing something on a notepad, the child is looking on with utmost eagerness. Later, Rajinikanth is also seen posing with a child. The pictures have been doing the rounds on the internet and have already become a hit among fans. This is Rajinikanth's 169th film and is also being referred to as Thalaivar169.

The film has an ensemble star cast that includes Tamannaah, Ramya Krishnan, Yogi Babu, and Kannada star Shivarajkumar in important roles. Ramya Krishnan and Rajinikanth are coming together after a long time. The last time they were seen together on screen was in Padayappa (1999). Later, Ramya Krishnan appeared in a cameo appearance as her popular character Neelambari in Rajinikanth's Baba.

The makers had recently surprised fans of the Superstar with the release of the announcement theme music. This piqued the curiosity among fans of the actor. The title announcement poster, released earlier, had a blood-soaked meat cleaver hanging from a chain in a dilapidated building. Music for the film is by Anirudh Ravichander, who had earlier composed music for Rajinikanth's Petta and Darbar. Jailer is said to be an action drama and this is the maiden collaboration between Nelson Dilipkumar, Rajinikanth and Tamannaah. The film is bankrolled by Sun Pictures and is likely to hit screens for next year for the summer.

Rajinikanth's last release was Siruthai Siva's Annaththe, which received mixed reviews from the box office. Nelson Dilipkumar's last release Beast, too, received mixed reviews at the box office.

Jhini Bini Chadariya review: A moving lamentation for the holy city of Varanasi

SUKHPREET KAHLON

Ritesh Sharma's hard-hitting film lays bare the social fabric of the city and the growing threat from communal forces

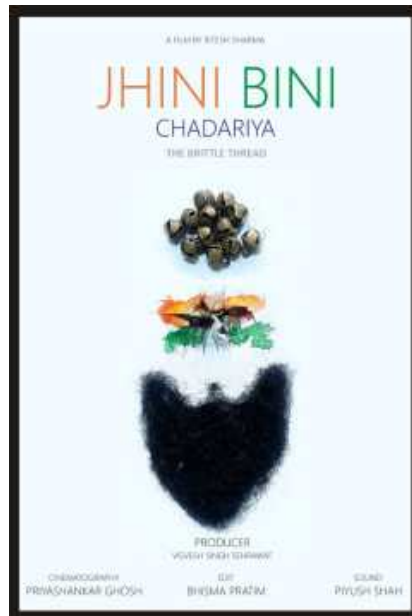

Ritesh Sharma's assured directorial debut, Jhini Bini Chadariya (The Brittle Thread), grapples with the churn that the ancient city of Varanasi is undergoing. Varanasi, a city in Uttar Pradesh with a vibrant syncretic tradition jostling with a tumultuous present, is depicted as being at the cusp of change and an unsettling reflection of what is going on in the rest of the country.

Rani (Megha Mathur) is a feisty dancer who performs in risqué dance shows. A single working mother, she does what she can to provide the best care for her differently abled daughter. Not one to brook any nonsense, she refuses to take on the protection of a man who wishes to control her.

On the other hand, Shahdab (Muzaffar Khan), a quiet, meek Muslim weaver who keeps his head down, goes about his work and leads an almost claustrophobic life. When a young Israeli tourist Adah (Sivan Spector) befriends him, his world opens up through this unlikely encounter.

Although they come from very different worlds, Rani and Shahdab exist on the fringes of a city eager to embrace modernity. Rani harbours notions of possessing autonomy over her body, as well as the right to choose, only to realise that it is an illusion. Traumatized irrevocably by his past, Shahdab feels a glimmer of hope in there being some way other way to live.

Woven within the film is the presence of the mystic poet Kabir. Born in Varanasi, he attacked organised religion to advocate a holistic, humanitarian and secular outlook that borrowed from Hinduism and Islam. In his poem 'Jhini Bini Chadariya', the human body is seen as the 'chadariya' or sheet of cloth and the film contemplates the threads woven into this fabric, along with the influences that start to tear it apart.

Sharma's film is at once a celebration of and lamentation for Varanasi. The speeches of a monolithic Hindu nation and the reclaiming of temples form the backdrop to a city being unmade and fashioned along communal lines. Layering the story of Rani and Shahdab, the palpable violence in the speeches inadvertently makes one brace for its consequences.

The mise-en-scene foregrounds the unmaking of the secular fabric of the city, as the cinematography weaves its way through the bylanes, taking us to the iconic ghats, capturing the festivities along with the silences that punctuate it.

The realistic performances by the cast bring out the predicament of the characters who are caught in a web of socio-political forces. Like ordinary people, they are just trying to eke out a living for themselves, yet they are victims of forces they are unable to contemplate.

"Why is this normal?" asks the Israeli tourist Adah when Shahdab is picked on as a Muslim man spending time with a foreign woman. At the end of Sharma's film, we leave asking the same question, shuddering at the bestiality of man. This is a courageous film for our times.

Sharma's film was part of the Film Bazaar Recommends programme in 2019 and had its world

premiere at the 34th Tokyo International Film Festival, where it was the only Indian feature in the Asian Futures section.

Jhini Bini Chadariya (The Brittle Thread) was screened at the 13th Indian Film Festival of Melbourne in August and is due to be screened at the upcoming Tasveer South Asian Film Festival (TSAFF) in November.

Jim Sarbh says the film industry does not judge performances with 'honesty': We are obsessed with deities

The actor also spoke of how filmmakers always chose to depict characters who embodied strength above all else.

Jim Sarbh is never one to confine himself when it comes to the roles he takes up. The actor recently opened up about how he felt that the film industry was obsessed with portrayals of strength, and very rarely gave importance to 'flawed' characters.

The actor is set to appear on Bumble's Dating These Nights, where he will converse with Zoya Akhtar, as reported by Mid Day. During his episode, the actor said that the film industry, including producers, writers, directors, and actors, always preferred to include portrayals of strength, and audiences preferred watching the same as well. The actor alluded to how unrealistic such portrayals were, saying that he, like many other individuals, do not feel heroic or victorious all the time.

Sarbh went on to speak of how a good performance of a character who is generally considered 'weak' would not garner as much appreciation as a well performed 'strong' character. "This industry thrives on blurring the lines between performance and personality—because we are obsessed with deities. We rarely judge performances with honesty", he said.

The actor added that, many times, strong writing or direction was also confused with strong performances. He also spoke of how some films gave more importance to the hero over the heroine, mirroring the patriarchal nature of society.

In addition to Sarbh and Akhtar, the other stars who are expected to make an appearance on Dating These Nights include Mrunal Thakur, Shriya Pilgaonkar, Vijay Varma and Srishiti Dixit.

Ahead of the release of Delhi Crime 2, Shefali Shah says she preps hard and 'gets into a zone' before playing intense characters

A still from the series

There is little similarity between the sharp-tongued Shamshunissa of Darlings and the thoughtful DCP Vartika Chaturvedi of Delhi Crime. Yet, Shefali Shah slips into each role seamlessly. The key, she says, is thorough homework. The actor admits that she "gets into a zone" when essaying an intense role, and it wasn't any different when she stepped into the shoes of her DCP character again for the upcoming second season of Delhi Crime. "When I am doing any project, I am so consumed that I have no interest in cutting off from it. After I finish shooting for the day, I shower, and I start studying for the next day. Everyone in my house knows that I am in a zone. I don't know any other way of doing it," she says.

Shah has hit the bull's eye this year so far with Jalsa and Darlings. With the upcoming Netflix offering, she hopes to continue her hot streak. The actor attributes the dream run to her selection of scripts. "I have been choosy all my life, and now, I am more so. If something doesn't excite me, I just can't be a part of it. I won't be fair to the role, and vice versa."

Parvyn: 'Have we forgotten what life is about?'

WORDS BY JACOB MCCORMACK

Lead vocalist of psychedelic outfit The Bombay Royale,

Parvyn Singh commenced the pursuit of a solo project in the latter part of the previous decade.

Opportunity opens for young Melbourne...

Following on from the maiden release entitled Sa – a whirling combination of classical Indian music, rhythmic vocals, psychedelia, and electronica, Parvyn has been thrilled with the response she has received both in Australia and globally.

“This is the first time I’ve had full creative control over my own project,” says Parvyn. “With the Bombay Royale, which was the big band I was in, we did three records, and it was kind of a collaborative process with all 11 members of the band that were getting together and doing the songwriting, so this was very much different in that it was personal to me.”

Despite the personal nature of Sa and the process involved in constructing a solo album, Parvyn acknowledges the significance that her foundational involvement in The Bombay Royale had on navigating the nuances of the industry.

“The experience recording those three albums with the Bombay Royale gave me the insight into how to release music which has been good because I’m a totally self-released and independent artist that is managing myself and releasing my own music.”

Although the unpredictability and uncertainty arising from living in Melbourne through the height of the pandemic meant that a whole cluster of challenges demanded a forced adaptability and a multitude of patience from Parvyn, the album was completed.

“It’s been good having the experience of the Bombay stuff to help me release it,” says Parvyn, “but in the same way having covid thrown into the mix it’s been a new world with new challenges including being able to record the album.”

“During lockdowns in 2020-21 I would meet my producer on zoom, every Monday and we did a lot of the beginning process of the recording online, and we just had to push through and then once lockdowns got released that’s when we would meet up together and we would get musicians to guest on the record.”

Delays aplenty, Parvyn was determined to prosper on, and the result is an album that delves into the unique sound Parvyn brings to her distinct form of storytelling.

“Otherwise, there was delays with photoshoots for the record cover and also the film clip, so it was pretty challenging. It also gave me something to focus on during covid. All the gigs got stripped away and I just had to put everything I had into this record.”

The energy that was injected into Sa is recognisable throughout the full album. Starting in the entrancing nature of the opening track ‘Jara’ all the way to the conclusive song ‘The Sun’ that features the joyous laugh of her eight-month-old son, Ravi.

The unique sound that Parvyn has captured within the 12-track album can be likened to artists in droves, yet there are a plethora of moments throughout the entirety of the LP that spotlight the authenticity of Parvyn’s music.

Parvyn identifies this as the fusion of her potent and extensive Punjabi lineage inclusive of the art that has come before her and the experiences she had being a part of the only Indian family that attended her primary school.

“When I sing, I am trying more and more to make sure it comes from an authentic space, of my experience, because my experience is unique. Being born in Australia but with a very strong Indian cultural background, a Sikh Punjabi is the specific cultural background where I come from.”

“It’s a very specific place that I’ve come from but being in Australia 30-years-ago in a society where my family was the only Indian family that went to my primary school; that perspective is my own.”

Driven by the desire to share these internalised experiences and the sounds that they manifest into, Parvyn pins down the appetency to fill a void she perceives within the medium of music.

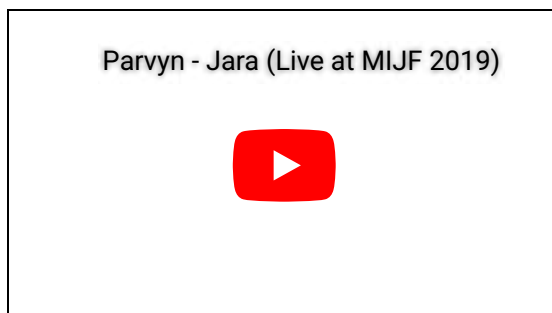

“I am making this art because one of the things that drives me is the music I hear in my head that I can’t find anywhere else. That is what compels me to make it. It doesn’t exist and I need to hear it, I want to do this. So, I feel like what I’m doing is really fresh, it hasn’t been done like this before which is an exciting thing to be a part of.”

Parvyn also outlines that her urge to share her music stems from wanting to establish sonic narratives that others can relate to and resonate with. Her music remains considerate of those who have often felt isolated and alone in their own experiences.

“I’m hoping that whatever comes out of me is representative of that and others that haven’t been represented or haven’t heard that story but relate to it and will relate to this music,” says Parvyn.

For Parvyn the music that she creates, and the stories interwoven into it isn’t a compartmentalised practice, rather she embodies a life spent artistically.

“Practicing that artform to me is a lifestyle as well,” says Parvyn, “it’s encompassing of all of that wisdom and knowledge that has come before me. Recognising, respecting, and appreciating that is where I come from and really having a strong base in that is what gives me the foundation to then be able to create, but paying acknowledgment to all of the artists and the art that I study, and I learn that comes from India before me.”

“Mostly I’m living an artist’s life. I think it’s a worthy way of spending time in my life – practising my art”.

In this approach to life, art, and the innate symbiosis of the two Parvyn is striving to engage with South Asian and Indian art and the practitioners working within this style. Steadily meshing with the community, opportunities like playing the awards night at the Melbourne Indian Film Festival have been fruitful.

“I’ve been getting into the Indian and South Asian artistic community,” says Parvyn, “recently there was the Melbourne Indian film festival and we performed at the Palais Theatre for the awards night. There was a bunch of Bollywood stars there.”

“Crossing those borders between Indian and Australian art is something I’m really passionate about. Representing South Asian art in this country is something I’m passionate about, and it’s happening, and there is a lot more South Asian art being represented in this space.”

Ultimately, Parvyn and the artistic life she leads is a means of inspiring others towards a more fulfilling existence.

“Being an example of what I want to see in the world, more of what I want to see in the world, I want to see people have a more sustainable life, get out of the rat race, and enjoy what we’re doing on a day-to-day basis. So often I see people and they’re not happy and they’re on the hustle and charge constantly. Have we forgotten what life is about? Have we forgotten that we’re meant to enjoy it along the way as well?”

You can catch her and her live band playing The Count’s at Monash University on Saturday September 24. Tickets here.

Sai Pallavi in Gargi

Gautham Ramachandran's Gargi is one of the few Tamil films which garnered unanimous positive reviews from critics this year. The movie, which has Sai Pallavi playing the titular role, received appreciation from several quarters for its gripping screenplay, convincing performances and effective twists and turns.

The hard-hitting drama, which was dropped on SonyLIV after a month of its theatrical release, won the hearts of movie buffs who missed the film in theatres. The film has now been screened at the prestigious 44th Moscow International Film Festival. Director Gautham took to his Twitter page to share the excitement.

The movie, which was released on July 15, stood out for the performance of Sai Pallavi, RS Shivaji, Saravanan and Kaali Venkat among others. The mind-boggling climax twist is one of the highlights of the courtroom drama which has been escalated by Govind Vasantha's background score.

Suriya's production house 2D Entertainment distributed the movie in theatres across Tamil Nadu while Ravichandran Ramachandran, Thomas George, Aishwarya Lekshmi V and Gautham Ramachandran jointly bankrolled the project under the banner of Blacky Genie & My Left Foot Productions. Shafique Mohamed Ali has edited the movie which has cinematography handled by Srailyanti and Premkrishna Akkatu.

Gargi marked Sai Pallavi's return to Tamil cinema after a three-year hiatus. Her last theatrical release in Kollywood was Selvaraghavan's Suriya-starrer NGK which was released in 2019. She was part of Netflix's Paava Kadhaigal in 2020, in which she was seen along with Prakash Raj in the segment Oor Iravu directed by Vetri Maaran.

Movie buffs are now waiting to know the various recognitions Gargi is likely to bag in the forthcoming prestigious award events.

IFFM: A Glitzy, Ritzy, Starry Affair!

After a hiatus of two years, thanks to the COVID-19 pandemic, the Indian Film Festival of Melbourne (IFFM) was back with a bang. Celebrating its 13th year, the festival boasted an array of Bollywood's hip and happening stars, including the suave and witty Abhishek Bachchan, the stunning Vaani Kapoor and Tamannah, the extremely talented duo of Shefali Shah and Taapsee Pannu.

The Indus Age Magazine - September / 2022 • www.indusage.com.au

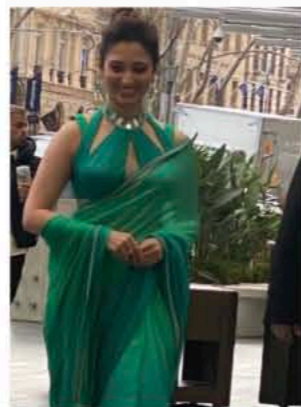

Accompanying them were directors like Nikhil Advani (of Kal Ho Na Ho fame), Shoojit Sarcar (of Piku fame) and Anurag Kashyap (of Dobaaraa fame), producers, singers including the lady with the booming voice Sona Mohapatra.

IFFM is the brainchild of Mitu Bhowmick-Lange, and anyone that has met her once, knows she has a brilliant vision that is matched with tremendous enthusiasm. Despite the pandemic and lockdown creating so many hurdles in 2020 and 2021, she found a way out and the last IFFM was held online. This year, it was even more special, given it was the 75th anniversary of Indian Independence. What better way to celebrate Azadi ka Amrit Mahotsav, than to have a flurry of Bollywood's finest here in our very own Melbourne!

But the IFFM is so much more than just a party, it is a medium where independent and upcoming movie makers are also appreciated, including local talent from Australia. This time, for the first time, there was a movie which had Pakistani actors and crew. 'Joyland' made for an amazing watch, especially because of its plot. Hats off to the young film-makers, who have shown ample courage to make a movie on a subject that is not easily discussed in a lot of communities as yet. Other movies like Maali, Paraasathi, Maasa Bad omen, Jaggi and Dobaaraa, and documentaries like Shut Up Sona, Women of my billion (WOMB) and Ayena, were only some of the highlights in the 9 day extravaganza... which was a treat to any movie lover.

Right from the opening night to the press conference, from the wonderful chat sessions with the celebrities, hosted by the talk show extraordinaire Rajeev Masand, to the Awards night, there was something for everyone. Who can forget, the flag hoisting by the legendary Kapil Dev and Abhishek Bachchan, followed by the customary dance competition which saw entries from local dance enthusiasts...absolute fun...right here in Melbourne.

As the Victorian Minister for Creative Industries, Minister for Tourism, Sport and Major Events, Mr Steve Dimopoulos rightly said, the IFFM has become a medium to unite the two countries Australia and India on a whole different level. This year, especially with the legendary Kapil Dev being present here for the movie '83, the two countries were united on two fronts, Sports and Arts!

Watching the enthusiasm of the audience that attended, and hearing how the Bollywood fraternity that attended loved Melbourne, I could not help but think that we may have truly overcome the pandemic fatigue that had set in. It felt good, to be back in our beautiful Melbourne city, to have Bollywood stars come to Australia, to have audiences back for live shows and performances, to watch movies in theatres again, and to feel like life is back to 'normal' again. Thank you IFFM, and looking forward to attending the next one in 2023!

Indian Film Festival of Melbourne celebrated with much fanfare!!

The Indian Film Festival 2022 was held in Melbourne from August 12th through August 20th.

The Indus Age Magazine - September / 2022 • www.indusage.com.au

Each year the festival brings the biggest names from Bollywood, and as the festival was viewed online the last couple of years due to COVID, this year the festival returned to Melbourne with a star studded line-up.

The Indian Film Festival in Melbourne has been my annual pilgrimage since 2017. The festival returning to Melbourne was something I knew I was not going to miss, and I took my dancing shoes, excitement and expectations to Melbourne for the start of the festival. As always, the festival director, Mitu Bhowmick Lange, put up a solid set of guests for the festival. This year notables were Abhishek Bachchan, Shefali Shah, Vaani Kapoor, Taapsee Pannu, Anurag Kashyap, Kabir Khan, Mohit Raima, Nikkhil Advani, Kapil Dev and many more.

The festival opened up on August 12th with a media press conference at the picturesque 360 degrees views of Melbourne at 55 Collins Street. The ambiance was unlike any other, with everyone happy to be back travelling post pandemic and you could just feel the excitement in the air. As the interview process started, I was not going to miss the chance to speak with Abhishek Bachchan and he didn't disappoint. As a lot of actors are turning to OTT platforms, my discussion with Abhishek took us through to a new upcoming season of Breathe: Into the Shadows. If speaking with Abhishek Bachchan wasn't enough, I struck up a great conversation with the beautiful Vaani Kapoor. As Delhi girls, we both had a lot to talk about but my focus was on her breakthrough roles she chooses that put her ahead of the rest of the pack.

The festival takes over various venues in Melbourne. The opening night was at Hoyts Docklands and that is where the festival officially opened to the general public as we lit up the ceremonial lamp to begin the festival followed right by the festival director's welcome message. The significance of the ceremonial lamp is to bring warmth, positivity and light which was a recurring theme throughout the festival. This followed up with the screening of the ground-breaking thriller film starring Taapsee Pannu and directed by master filmmaker Anurag Kashyap's, Dobaaraa. After the film, there was a Q&A with the brilliant minds behind the film giving us insights on the making of the film and also how the trend in Bollywood is shifting and audiences are craving for wide array of topics.

If opening day press conference and the premier of Taapsee Pannu's Dobaaraa was any indication of what was to come, it was going to be celebrations of India's 75th Independence Day. Melbourne is arguably the capital city when it comes to having the most Indian migrants in an Australian city. The crowds came in bulk to witness the flag hoisting by none other than Indian Cricket legend Kapil Dev and Bollywood superstar Abhishek Bachchan as they hoisted the tricolour at the iconic Federation Square in the heart of Melbourne. The panel of judges included the pan-Indian star Tamannaah Bhatia, singer Sonu Mohapatra and 2020 Miss Universe Australia Maria Thattil. The jury had their hands full as the crowd looked on and saw many dance performances that made deciding the winner almost impossible. The atmosphere was nostalgic as the crowd was dancing to beats from almost every corner of India, and a special surprise when Sonu Mohapatra took the stage and captivated the audience with her lyrics. The crowd was then treated to Indian cinema by watching, 83; the journey leading the Indian National Cricket Team to victory in 1983 World Cup directed by Kabir Khan.

While Federation Square was rocking, there was by far my favourite event of the festival happening across the bridge at The Arts Centre. The intimate conversations led by moderator and film critic Rajeev Masand is one that I make sure I never miss. The afternoon is spent listening to some of our favourite mainstream Bollywood Actors, Producers and Directors. The afternoon kicked off with one of my favourite actresses Shefali Shah and the Jalsa team. It is safe to say that Indian cinema is making giant strides towards diverse, inclusive and complex storytelling through these trailblazing films.

As the world evolves, we have ushered in many changes in the industry, one of them is how streaming services have become a new way of watching cinema. As filmmakers focus on highly nuanced and complex stories steeped in realism and they tackle themes such as pride, disability, and much more. We have seen a huge transformation as with OTT platforms the industry moves toward independent productions and evolving stories that were never touched before. To help us talk through the transition Rajeev Masand had a conversation with Tamannaah Bhatia, Nikkhil Advani the director of 26/11, Shoojit Sircar the director of Sardar Udham and the Joyland team. It is safe to say that OTT platforms are here to stay and if anything, it has opened doors for many writers, directors and producers to let the general public hear their stories.

How lucky were we for the next segment of the chats as Actress Vaani Kapoor taking centre stage. It was incredible to see this mainstream actress break conventions by playing a strong trans dance teacher in Chandigarh Kare Aashiqui and then going to her next blockbuster Shamsheera, where she displayed her versatility and her acting prowess. As she proves herself as one of the most exciting actresses in India by choosing unexpected roles and leaving everyone in awe with her dance moves, it was a fantastic conversation with her as we uncovered her amazing career thus far. It was even better for me as we had shared several moments backstage and I really got a chance to know Vaani up, close and personal which reaffirmed my stance, which is that she is a superstar in the making.

As the Saturday festivities came to a close, IFFM definitely saved the best for last. The Indian mega star, Abhishek Bachchan took the stage as we discussed his award-winning performances, his status in the film industry and his loveable personality that has been praised by audiences and critics throughout his career. Always dressed to impress, I was in awe with his fashion sense at the same time his lovely personality. He spoke to the audience genuinely and taught us that there is no job too big or small when it comes to acting. His struggles that he faced were real despite being the Son of Amitabh Bachchan, there were no shortcuts.

The evening came to an end with interviews, and I was lucky enough to have some exclusive time with these stars. I had the luxury to share coffee, laughs and smiles with these industry professionals, and making memories that will definitely last a lifetime as I make my way through this huge industry we call Bollywood.

Opening weekend was coming to an end, but not before clearly the most anticipated night of the festival; the Awards show. Picture coming up to Palais Theatre in St Kilda, and you can hear the drums, trumpets and see the glitz & glamour as stars make their way through the Red Carpet. Yes, it was pure nostalgia and that cold windy chilly Melbourne night was heated up as everyone dressed to impress. The packed theatre had loads of surprises, performances and emotions that you just had to be there to feel. Shefali Shah took home the Best Actress Award for Jalsa, Ranveer Singh was the Best Actor for portraying living Cricket Legend Kapil Dev in '83. Vaani Kapoor took home the Disruptor award for her ground breaking roles in movies that only the bold can achieve, and lastly the Leadership in cinema award for Abhishek Bachchan was timely for the work that he has done in the Industry and continues to do.

Overall, my visit to IFFM 2022 far exceeded my expectations. Watching Melbourne transform into mini Bollywood for 8 days was something out of a movie. As part of the entertainment industry hype is created, but IFFM proved once again that hype can be organic. As we look at 2023 and what the festival will look like, it is only fitting that I choose to live in the moment.

IFFM22 Returns with a Bang

Crowds in record numbers sizzle with the stars at the red carpet at the Indian Film Festival Melbourne 2022

Just like that, it was time for the Indian Film Festival Melbourne stars to come out and sparkle with Melbournians after two years online.

Marking its 13th annual Indian Film Festival of Melbourne, the festival celebrates the theme 'Revival', which couldn't be more appropriate given that Melbourne is coming back to life after two years of pause.

Once again, it was time to lay the red carpet that is still stardust by 2019 Shahrukh Khan's appearance to make way for this year's guests, filmmakers Shoojit Sarkar, Nikhil Advani, Suresh Triveni and last but not least, Kabir Khan, along with the illustrious Kapil Dev for their film '83 The festival also was host to actors Shefali Shah, Tamannaah, Sonam Mohapatra and Vaani Kapoor and last but not the least Abhishek Bachchan.

A chilly morning at the press conference at 55 Collins Street embraced the warmth of minister for creative industries Steve Dimopoulos, festival director Mitu Bhowmick Lange and festival guests. With an extensive list of more than 129 films in 29 languages, a variety of short films, features and documentaries from India and the subcontinent.

IFFM 2022 offered Australia-comprehensive streaming free with its hybrid format. An excellent chance for everyone with a passion for films to keep up with the fantastic line of movies, far or near. The Victorian government has supported the festival over the next three years with $3 million and a further $1.3 million for "My Melbourne," a new IFFM screen production initiative with Indian filmmakers Kabir Khan, Imtiaz Ali, Onir and Rima Das.

The festival's favourite friend Rajeev Masand in conversation with Kabir Khan and Kapil Dev - to talk about 83 on the backdrop of Melbourne's iconic cricket ground MCG.

Anurag Kashyap directed "Dobaaraa" with lead actor Taapsee Pannu was the opening night film in a jam-packed theatre at Hoyts Docklands.

Also, what better way to celebrate India's 75th Independence Day than with the crowds returning to Melbourne's iconic Federation Square, as they witness flag hoisting of the Indian National flag, with distinguished guests Premier of Victoria Dan Andrews, High Commissioner of India Manpreet Vohra, cricketer Kapil Dev and Abhishek Bachchan. It was also the return of the Dance Competition, and with it came the overflowing crowds as they cheered with the judges, Tamannaah, Sona Mohapatra and Maria Thattil (Miss Universe Australia 2020)

The glitz and glamour of the awards night left everyone wanting for more when Chief Health Medical Officer Brett Sutton broke into his bhangra move with host Rithvik Dhanjani who wooed the crowd with his charms and wit. But the best part of the night was Kapil Dev winning the Lifetime Achievement Award. Best Film from the subcontinent went to Joyland with the disruptor in cinema award going to Vaani Kapoor.

The Indian Film Festival of Melbourne 2022 was in cinemas across Melbourne from August 12-20, and you still have time to catch all the excitements as it streams Australia-wide for free on iffm.com.au, now extended till 30th September.

Anurag & Taapsee Pannu

A candid chat with director Anurag Kashyap and actress Taapsee Pannu - Dobaaraa- the opening night film.

What inspired you both to do Dobaaraa, a remake of the Spanish film Mirage?

Taapsee Pannu: The Script. The film was not made then. We just had the script. Sunir Khetarpal (producer) had just brought the rights to the script. I had the script to read and loved the writing hence.

Anurag Kashyap: There was no film then; our interpretation of the script was massively different from the movie because we had the script and not the film.

With over a Billion people in India, we can flood the world with local stories. Why do we need to take stories from other countries and remake them?

Anurag Kashyap: India cannot deal with its own reality.

Unlike in Australia or any other country, the people decide for themselves, but in India, they decide for the people. The thing is Indian people need to be told what to do. Half the country is uneducated, and secondly, India is highly uncomfortable with its own stories. There's an enormous pressure to show positive stories and get the social message of how great and united we are as Indians. Fact is different, and if we put any factual stories they cannot handle, we have to borrow random mainstream cinema from outside and create an aspirational sense of heroism that is beyond anything realistic. We think it is forever, and we cannot have a practical country without education. India is one of the worst on the educational scale in the world. It's sad.

Your performance in Pink and Thappad will always be remembered with the way you get into the character. How do you do that?

Taapsee Pannu: We get more attentional credit than we deserve in a film because we are the face in front of the camera. If you look closely, we are a tool in the hands of the filmmaker; how they (actors) use it's the expertise of the filmmaker. That's the reason cinema is called the director's medium. I am very raw in terms of my knowledge or talent, I am not very trained, so I depend upon my directors. So, all the performances and the name of the films you mentioned is because I surrender myself to the director's hands and let him mould the way he wants to without come with stiff preparation for a specific role. So, I let the director speak his language through me.

Anurag Kashyap: She's a medium, and I invoke the spirits.

We read somewhere where that you had fights and the next moment you are ok. It takes days to calm down, so how do you switch to work again?

Anurag Kashyap: We are beyond the siblings' stage.

Taapsee Pannu: The fights are not to offend the other but to push each other, and hence there are no cold wars that one takes back home because we know we mean a lot to each other and value.

What is your definition of feminism?

Anurag Kashyap: Women and men should be equal. There should be equality, and gender shouldn't exist. Only people should. I don't understand, and the problem with the entire world is the sense of honour associated with the vagina. Why? We don't need to be so over-protective.

The world becomes equal, and we don't have to posture as the knight in shining armour.

In a short period, what has been your most memorable character to play so far?

Taapsee Pannu: Never asked the mother her favourite child.

Anurag Kashyap: If you ask me what's my favourite film, I always say 'Next', that's what keeps us going.

What is your one word for Melbourne?

Anurag Kashyap: I love Melbourne; the weather is beautiful, I love Chinatown, and I cannot wait to see some films. The most fantastic thing about Melbourne is the most incredible master chef living in Melbourne and the best restaurants in the world. I have the list of Masterchef restaurants that I want to visit. I want to walk around Melbourne, eat and have the local wine.

Taapsee Pannu: My first time in Melbourne, I was fascinated with Australia. I cannot wait to eat some excellent food.

Tamannaah Bhatia @IFFM 2022

From Lokhandwala, Mumbai to Melbourne, we sit with the super gorgeous Tamannaah Bhatia of Bhaubali about her journey in films.

Do you believe in hard work, luck or a combination?

I think the circumstance that you get put in is luck. Life is like poker; you don't know what cards you get to handle. You have to play your best. That's what I have been trying to do all along.

Did you always want to take your career on a particular path, or was that accidental?

When I was young, I always wanted to be an actor. It's seemed pretty cliché that most people want to be an actor, a doctor or an engineer because these are the obvious choices that one wants to make. In my case, I did a theatre workshop for a year which made me realise that I was working for eleven to twelve hours and then I was studying during the day, but I wasn't getting tired because I was enjoying what I was doing. I discovered at a young age that nothing mattered with or without food and water. I wanted to keep going, and of course, opportunities came my way, and I continued to work.

How has life changed after Bhaubali?

A global audience has looked up to Indian cinema a lot more seriously, persevering Indian content with a keen eye.

Indian stories have some or the other influence or aping the west. But, now we have stories rooted in India, and people are reacting on a mass level. Films like Bhaubali have mass appeal and tell authentic stories that fit well with our cultures and tell them well. Stories based on human emotions connect with everyone.

What are you looking at next?

I think my success in commercial cinemas has been in the south, and I am not focused on only Hindi films but all other languages. If you do many different languages, you tend to spread yourself to large audiences. In Hindi, I have a film called Babli Bouncer that is coming out on the 23rd of September by Disney Plus Hotstar; it's and OTT release. It's a Madhur Bhandarkar film which makes a lot of women-centric movies and which are mighty. Babli Bouncer is a very novel concept as we don't have the idea of females being bouncers. Being part of cinema and playing different characters like the following show, Jee Karda showcases friendships from school times. The story is based on Mumbai life.

On being humble and down to earth?

That's the only way to be; where will we take this and go!

(GDI)

Vaani Kapoor @ IFFM 2022

The Gorgeous Vaani Kapoor talks about her life before and after films.

From hospitality to Film, three years of internship with Oberoi Hotel, worked with ITC, what made you change your career?

Back then, I was trying to find my purpose in life, and I wasn't sure what I would do. That was a phase in my life where I thought that let me proceed with hospitality or tourism; back then, it was the creative medium for me. I had no means to be part of this industry, and it so happened that after that, I paved my path to be a model, and from modelling, I got an opportunity to test for films. Of course, my parents want to see me educated and finish my graduation, and one thing people cannot steal from you is your knowledge and exposure. So, the more understanding you have of the world, the better it is for you.

What would you like to say about Shamshera and how people have taken it?

It didn't live up to the expectations that I was hoping to get. It got mixed reviews, and maybe it didn't strike a chord with the reviewers, but we made the film with the right intent. One didn't want to fall short of any expectations. But you lose some, and you win some. The audience has also become unforgiving and highly selected, and they have a buffet of films worldwide to choose from. So, one must work harder.

There are so many layers of labels attached to the film industry. What do you see yourself as?

The aspiration is to break the stereotypes, the labels and the boxes that people try to fit us in. We are actors and be like water, moulded in any container. I aspire to be and explore all kinds of genres and films. I am still a timid introverted girl, so I have to work on my confidence like one has to work on their muscles in a gym. Confidence is a muscle that you have to train.

What cues did you take to prepare for the role?

That's when I leave my inhibitions as an individual behind. I feel it unfair to hold any of it back for a character. I have a lot of value to my work, and that's where my conviction is; my confidence comes from these convictions to deliver my utmost best.

What are your thoughts on criticism?

There is constructive criticism, and then there is criticism to pull one down and then there is a lot of hate. Strangely enough, people feel empowered when they address hate, but they forget that those many thoughts and that much of what they give out will all come back. It is a vicious cycle. If it's constructive, I am all up for it because criticism needs to find a fairground.

Where do you see yourself ten years from now?

Life is so unpredictable right now. Let life chart its course.

What is your one word for Melbourne?

Melbourne is beautiful, and I would love to come back soon, hopefully. I hope I can shoot for a feature film one day soon.

Soon after, India's Gopika Kottantharayil Bhasi from Thrissur in Kerala was awarded the maiden scholarship. However, due to the pandemic and travel restrictions, it was put to a halt for last year.

The La Trobe University says this scholarship was their most applied for a scholarship with over 800 applicants and hence the scholarship has been introduced back courtesy of the festival that facilitated this.

Shamshera, which marked Ranbir Kapoor's return to the big screen after almost four years, made its way onto OTT recently. But despite the hype, the Karan Malhotra directorial not only witnessed a lacklustre run at the box office, but also opened to mixed reviews from critics and audiences. After the film's digital premiere recently, many netizens also spotted a major goof up in the film, and took to Twitter to troll the makers for the same.

The scene in question features Vaani Kapoor as Sona, where she is seen trying to protect her baby from being harmed. Amidst the action, some eagle eyed netizens spotted that the baby in the scene seemed to be missing, and it looked like Vaani was simply clutching

Some Twitter users had hilarious reactions to the goof up, and one user wrote “#Shamshera Makers Be Like: Humne Baby Ko Maan Liya Hai”. “Maybe something is missing, But what ?” wrote another. A netizen also compared the scene in Shamshera to a scene in Baahubali which also featured a baby, the special effects in the latter being much more sophisticated.

Shefali Shah on her plans of directing a full-fledged film: I really want to, it's addictive Shefali Shah is really loving this stage of her career as an actor right now.

Shefali Shah says she is enjoying the current stage of her playing career and is not in a rush to helm her first major film. The actor's year began with the medical thriller series Human on Disney+ Hotstar. She then released the social thriller Jalsa on Prime Video, for which she received the best actress award at the Indian Film Festival of Melbourne last month.

The actor is on a roll after receiving positive reviews for his two recent Netflix productions: the dark comedy film Darlings and season two of the acclaimed police procedural series Delhi Crime.

Following the release of two short films in 2020, Shah was asked if she intended to direct her first feature-length film. She confirmed it to PTI but said it would happen in good time. She admitted to being addicted to directing the two short films, Someday and Happy Birthday Mummy Ji, which are based on COVID-19 and star her.

The National Award winner continued that when she decides to change gears, all her energies will go in that direction. Shah is loving this stage of her career as an actor right now. She first starred in Human, followed by Jalsa, Darlings, and now Delhi Crime 2. The actor is having a great time in this area. Therefore, she doesn't think it's a smart idea to take a project off the grid.

She said it takes a lot of work and time to plunge into something like that, adding that she wouldn't be doing anything else when she does that, but she will. Shah wants to be able to devote that undiluted time when she's ready.

The actor will next be seen in Doctor G, directed by Anubhuti Kashyap. The film features Ayushmann Khurrana and Rakul Preet Singh in the lead roles. The release date of the social comedy is yet to be announced. However, the first look posters of the lead actors are already out on social media pages.

On the work front, Shefali recently bagged the Best Actor (Female) award at the latest edition of the Indian Film Festival of Melbourne (IFFM). She won the prestigious award for her performance in 'Jalsa'. Suresh Triveni helmed the Prime Video's project, which also features Vidya Balan, Manav Kaul, Rohini Hattangadi, Vidhatri Bandi, Shrikant Mohan Yadav, Shafeen Patel, and Surya Kasibhatla. Apart from 'Jalsa', Shefali enthralled the audience with her performances in 'Human' and 'Darlings' as well.

Shefali will soon be seen as a cop in the second season of Netflix's 'Delhi Crime'.

Divulging further into the crime thriller genre, seasoned police officer DCP Vartika Chaturvedi and her trusted team are returning in the second season of India's only International Emmy Award-winning series 'Delhi Crime'. Inspired by true events, top cop Vartika spearheads another crucial investigation with her team to save Delhi and its senior citizens from a heinous gang of killers.

She will also be seen in the film 'Doctor G'. The film will feature Shefali as Dr Nandini. The film also stars Ayushmann Khurrana and Rakul Preet Singh. It is touted as a social comedy and will be out on December 3. (ANI)

Shefali Shah isn't in a hurry to direct her first feature film as the "Delhi Crime 2" star says she is enjoying the current phase in her acting career.

For the actor, the year started with Disney+ Hotstar medical thriller series "Human". She followed it up with the Prime Video social thriller film "Jalsa", for which she won the best actress award at the Indian Film Festival of Melbourne last month.

With rave reviews coming her way for two back-to-back Netflix projects -- dark comedy movie "Darlings" and season two of the acclaimed police procedural series "Delhi Crime" -- she is on a roll.

Asked whether she plans to helm her first full-fledged film following two shorts which she released in 2020, Shah said yes but in good time.

"I really want to, I directed those two short films and it's addictive," she told PTI about the self-starring COVID-19-based projects "Someday" and "Happy Birthday Mummy Ji".

All her energies will go into direction when she chooses to shift gears, added the National Award winner.

"Right now, I'm really enjoying my phase as an actor. I started with 'Human', then 'Jalsa', then 'Darlings' and now 'Delhi Crime 2'. I'm really enjoying this space. So I don't think it's a good idea to go off the grid to direct something.

"I wouldn't be doing anything else when I do that, but I will. It needs a lot of work to dive into something like Shah will next be seen in a special appearance in the upcoming campus comedy "Doctor G" with Ayushmann Khurrana and Rakul Preet Singh.

The actor described the Anubhuti Kashyap directorial as a light-hearted movie on an important issue.

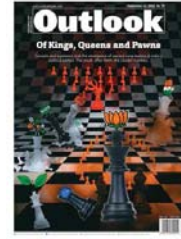

"I have a very small part. It was a commitment I made quite some time ago. I thought it would be exciting to be a part of an ensemble cast again. It is a script I really loved. I'm really looking forward to watching the film and seeing how it's shaped up," she added.

The 49-year-old also has "3 of Us", directed by Avinash Arun of "Paatal Lok" fame, in the pipeline. The relationship drama stars Jaideep Ahlawat and Swanand Kirkire as well.

The film will see Shah play a fragile character, a marked departure from her roles embodying strength such as DCP Vartika Chaturvedi from the "Delhi Crime" franchise.

"It is a part that I haven't played. There's a trend associated with what I do maybe because of the parts that I have played. But this character is so fragile, vulnerable and delicate."

Shah, who is in discussions with a couple of projects, said she has become "choosier" about her work over time.

Sona Mohapatra sings 'Kuhu Kuhu' in impromptu tribute to Lata Mangeshkar

By India New England News - August 21, 2022

Sona Mohapatra

Melbourne—Popular singer Sona Mohapatra took a packed auditorium by surprise when she was called up at the Indian Film Festival of Melbourne to give away an award and judge the long-standing and popular dance competition.

The singer treated the auditorium packed with the Indian diaspora, government functionaries, including members of the Indian parliament, and the city's mayor with an impromptu act.

She crooned, a-cappella, the 'Kuhu Kuhu Bole Koyaliya', a duet sung by Lata Mangeshkar and Mohammad Rafi in the film 'Suvarna Sundari', starring the legendary Akkineni Nageswara Rao and Anjali Devi. That was her tribute to the legendary Lata Mangeshkar.

Talking about the experience, Sona said: "When the festival organisers discovered that I had collaborated with INXS in a single called 'Afterglow', they requested if I could sing a few lines to celebrate India-Australia friendship."

"I found that the in-house symphony had a conductor who was a jazz musician and requested him to join me on stage."

Superstar Ranveer Singh inaugurates Ditas in Mumbai

By whizbliz@vectormob.com - August 23, 2022

Delhi's Favourite Restro & Bar is now in Mumbai and it was inaugurated by Bollywood superstar Ranveer Singh.

"Ditas is a hybrid restaurant where it is a restaurant during the day and a plush bar at night. When we decided to open it in Mumbai, we could only think of a superstar like Ranveer Singh to launch Ditas. His energy, his flamboyance, and his aura conjugates with Ditas," says Utsav Khaitan (Co-owner).

Encapsulating the charm of the European aura, the resto-bar is built to perfection and is sure to enhance your dining experience. Ditas offers you an experience where you can enjoy a burst of international flavour from the Spanish, Mediterranean, European and dash of Pan Asian food with an Art Nouveau-style interior to offer an opulent ambiance.

Ditas, co-founded by Udita and Utsav Khaitan, is an ode to a huge part of their relationship – traveling across the globe! Between traveling the world and creating priceless memories, they discovered their love for food and dreamed of turning their shared passion into something more significant – something that everyone could be a part of! This passion and love materialized into what we know as 'Ditas, Delhi'!

The space has been designed to provide a cozy and comfortable atmosphere while enveloping its patrons in the lap of luxury.

The resto-bar's success is in its simplicity and luxury in the field of culinary art by Udita, who holds a diploma in patisserie from the famed "Le Cordon Bleu," London, and Utsav, a finance whiz and wine enthusiast. They are now prepared to bring this success to Mumbai!

Udita, a culinary expert says, "The visual representation of cooking lends itself to art. Culinary preparation is both art and science in the modern kitchen. Both join hands to create those mouth-watering dishes that make us blissful".

Under the leadership of Ayush Gupta – CEO at Ditas who is intrigued by unusual combinations and loves being challenged with new and exciting offerings. Inspired by different regions of Europe and made with utmost passion and creativity, he has set his sights on bringing Ditas to the global theatre by opening the first international outlet in San Francisco in November 2022.

Soak in the authentic opulent ambiance indulge in the delectable spread and set out on a food journey like never before with the magic of DITAS.

Ditas is sure to be your new favourite spot in the city!

The hit combination is back, Will it be a much-needed blockbuster for Suriya?

August 21, 2022 / Sharat

Suriya and Devi Sri Prasad combination has been quite a successful one. The actor-director combo has so far given massively successful albums and films like Mayavi, Aaru, Singam 1, and Singam 2. These films have been quite monumental in Suriya's career and also established DSP as one of the top composers in the Tamil market.

Now, as per reports, the duo will be reuniting for Suriya's upcoming film with Siva. Suriya received a lot of acclaim for his recent performances in Jai Bheem and Soorarai Pottru. However, he needs massive commercial success now. He was hoping that ET would be a massive success but that didn't happen as well. The movie was a commercial success but it wasn't the blockbuster that everyone hoped it would be.

Across the border: Trans artists Naaz Joshi, Alina Khan talk about respective journeys

Alina, Naaz speak about defying the barriers in professions dominated by cisgender women

Entertainment Desk | August 26, 2022

An upcoming episode for BBC News's podcast series Baat Sarhad Paar: Conversations Across The Border has trans actor Alina Khan and India's first trans international beauty queen Naaz Joshi voicing their journeys.

A preview posted on Instagram shows Alina and Naaz in conversation about defying the barriers through their work, especially in professions dominated by cisgender women.

Naaz is the world’s first trans woman to win the Miss World Diversity title three times in a row, an international beauty pageant only cisgender women participated in. She is also India’s first trans model, gracing the covers of magazines and actively participating in the country’s modelling industry. However, her journey has not been one without bumps, as many have tried to use her identity against her.

“When I was on the ramp walk in Dubai, one sheikh shouted out ‘transgender.’ If there was any other girl in my place, perhaps she would have felt broken and would not have been able to continue the ramp walk. But I completed the ramp walk and then came back. Maybe that was what stood out to the judges, and I was crowned,” Naaz says, highlighting her experience.

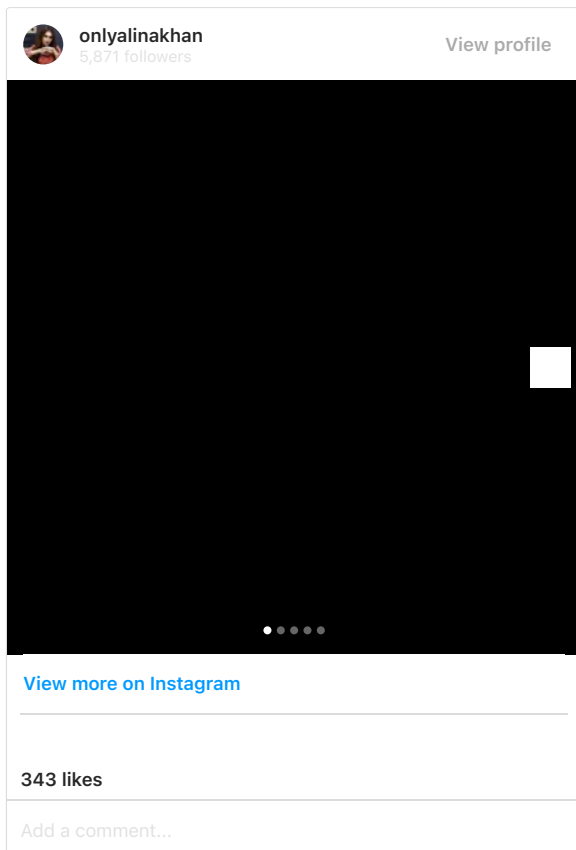

On the other side, Alina shed light on the positive impact of her achieving mainstream recognition, including the acceptance she gained from her family after her film Joyland garnered immense success and attention from all around the world.

“We have learned to live with people, but people have not yet learned to live with us. For me, the biggest achievement after working on the film [Joyland] was that my family properly accepted me. I started going and meeting them. When I returned after winning an award at Cannes, I went to visit my family first and spent the night there. That one night was a huge night for me because before then, I had never spent the night in my home before,” Alina explains.

Joyland made history at the Cannes Film Festival this year, not only being the first Pakistani feature to be selected for the festival but also winning the Cannes Queer Palm prize for best LGBT, queer or feminist-themed movie.

The film, which stars Alina as the trans director for an erotic dance theatre troupe, continues to go above and beyond at international film festivals. Most recently, it was termed a winner in the 'Best Film from the Subcontinent' category at the Indian Film Festival of Melbourne (IFFM).

Baat Sarhad Paar: Conversations Across The Border is a joint production between BBC News Hindi and BBC News Urdu, bringing together distinguished figures in art, music, film, and literature from both sides of the border. Asif Farooqui, who is the Pakistani Editor at BBC News Urdu, has described the project as "involving the people who could connect the 75 years of history with the future, so that younger generations on both sides of the divide feel connected with their past and hope for a future of peace and togetherness." Previous episodes feature several renowned faces, including director Sarmad Khoosat, singer Zeb Bangash, feminist Urdu poet Kishwar Naheed, and the former captain of the Pakistan women's national cricket team Sana Mir.

Published: Tuesday, Aug 23, 2022, 4:57 PM GMT+10

With buddies Akansha Ranjan and Anushka Ranjan, Vaani Kapoor celebrated her 34th birthday with a pomp and lots of cake. The actor, who most recently starred in the Ranbir Kapoor film Shamshera, shared a photo of her midnight birthday cake-cutting party with her closest friends.

On Tuesday, Vaani uploaded a few images and brief videos of her posing with the sisters on Instagram Stories.

Featured Video

In a video clip, Vaani gave audiences a peek of how she celebrated her birthday, blowing out a large white candle while Anushka and Akansha Ranjan sat by her sides and kissed the actor on the cheek. The three posed together and a small birthday cake was set on the table in front of them. Akansha was dressed in a cosy white and peach pyjama set, while Anushka wore a pair of black shorts and a black T-shirt. The birthday girl chose a white tank top and a pair of grey pants.

Anushka was the first to share the video. Happy birthday to my eternal sunshine," the actor said in his birthday greeting to Vaani. From her birthday celebration, Vaani posted a selfie of the two of them laughing and posing for the camera. Vaani added, "Best present from the best person," next to their photo. Kapoor was seen smiling in another video that was first posted by Akansha. She was posing with her eyes closed and her cheeks squeezed. Wishing her bestie, she penned, "It is my cutie's birthday. You deserve the world. I love you."

Vaani recently attended the Melbourne 2022 Indian Film Festival. Shamshera, the actor's most recent movie, had a poor box office performance. Ranbir Kapoor played the lead role in the period drama directed by Karan Malhotra, which starred Sanjay Dutt as the antagonist.

Vaani Kapoor starts shooting for new film on her birthday

It's a working birthday for actor Vaani Kapoor.

On the occasion of her 34th birthday, Vaani started shooting for her new film.

"It feels amazing to be starting a new film on my birthday! I couldn't have asked for a better gift for myself. I can't reveal any further but I can say that every project of mine post Chandigarh Kare Aashiqui will be diverse and will constantly put myself under the pump to pick challenging roles that gives me the scope to shine as an actor. I'm looking to do more tricky roles which satiates my artistic appetite and this new project fits right into the scheme of things for me now. I want to headline films that have very strong content and this one is right up there when it comes to getting something refreshing and relevant," she said.

She also shared a picture of the film's script on Instagram, creating curiosity among her fans.

Vaani was most recently seen with Ranbir Kapoor and Sanjay Dutt in 'Shamshera'. Despite great actors, the film failed to impress the audience.

Prior to featuring in 'Shamshera', Vaani won hearts with her role as a trans-woman in 'Chandigarh Kare Aashiqui', which also stars Ayushmann Khurrana in the lead role. Abhishek Kapoor's directorial emerged out as a blockbuster.

The actor described the Anubhuti Kashyap (/news?tag=Anubhuti+Kashyap) directorial as a light-hearted movie on an important issue.

"I have a very small part. It was a commitment I made quite some time ago. I thought it would be exciting to be a part of an ensemble cast again. It is a script I really loved. I'm really looking forward to watching the film and seeing how it's shaped up," she added.

The film will see Shah (/news?tag=Shah) play a fragile character, a marked departure from her roles embodying strength such as DCP Vartika Chaturvedi from the "Delhi Crime" franchise.

"It is a part that I haven't played. There's a trend associated with what I do maybe because of the parts that I have played. But this character is so fragile, vulnerable and delicate." Shah (/news?tag=Shah), who is in discussions with a couple of projects, said she has become "choosier" about her work over time.

"I'll wait for something that really excites me. It has been a great year professionally. I have to do something which matches up or takes it higher. I have to get back to work when I really am excited about something. So, I'll wait. The wait game has played out well for me," she added.

NEWS HIGHLIGHTS

Actor Taapsee Pannu, on Wednesday, treated her fans by unveiling the highly anticipated trailer and her first look from her upcoming thriller "Dobaaraa".

Mumbai, Jul 27: Actor Taapsee Pannu, on Wednesday, treated her fans by unveiling the highly anticipated trailer and her first look from her upcoming thriller "Dobaaraa".

Taapsee took to her Instagram handle and shared the trailer, captioning it as "Waqt ko thoda waqt do, wo sab badal dega. Sab Kuch. This storm brings with it a life-altering experience for Antara."

The film, which is written by Nihit Bhave, directed by Anurag Kashyap and produced by Ektaa Kapoor, also stars Rahul Bhatt, Saswata Chatterjee, Vidusshi Mehra, Sukant Goel, Nassar, Nidhi Singh and Madhurima Roy in important roles.

In the trailer, Taapsee, her husband, and their daughter are shown moving into a new home. Soon after, the family learns that a young boy was killed in the house next door during a thunderstorm 26 years ago. Taapsee's character is then seen conversing with the same young boy. While the trailer reveals that Dobaaraa tells the story of how Taapsee's character changes the past during a thunderstorm, which in turn changes her present, it also teases exciting theories of time travel.

The makers have reflected the implication of "Dobaaraa" in the length of the trailer which is 2 mins 12 seconds long, and the length of the film which is 2 hours 12 mins long.

"Dobaaraa" will be the first project under Cult Movies, a new wing under Balaji Telefilms and Sunir Khetarpal & Gaurav Bose, which Ekta Kapoor has established in an effort to create "new-age and edgy" entertainment for young moviegoers.

The 2018 release "Dobaaraa" is the Hindi translation of the Spanish thriller "Mirage". Following Manmarziyaan, Anurag Kashyap and Taapsee have reunited for this project.

"Dobaaraa" will debut at the Indian Film Festival of Melbourne (IFFM) on August 12. The movie will release in theatres on August 19 across India. (ANI)

When Rishi Kapoor admitted to having a 'chauvinist in him'; recounted how he blamed Neetu for his failures

The late Rishi Kapoor had made the revelations in his memoir Khullam Khulla.

Rishi Kapoor would have turned seventy years old today. The veteran actor, who passed away in 2020, had never shied away from being open and honest with fans. In 2017, the actor had laid it all out in the open in his memoir Khullam Khulla. In it, Rishi had even opened up about some of the more chauvinistic aspects of his personality as well, which had strained his relationship with his wife, Neetu Kapoor.

After the couple tied the knot in 1980, Neetu had retired from acting. In his book, Rishi had spoken of how he had been pleased by the decision. Although he had not forced Neetu to retire, he said he was guilty of not trying to convince her to keep working. "There was a chauvinist in me that didn't want his wife to go out to work. I wanted Neetu to finish all her commitments before we got married. All I can say in my defence is that my views have changed since then", he wrote.

The veteran actor also spoke of some incidents which strained their relationship, even opening up about the time when he was reluctant to be a part of Kabhi Kabhie as he felt Neetu had a more prominent role in the film. Rishi recalled how he had approached director Yash Chopra saying that he wanted to do Neetu's role instead, which left the filmmaker confused.

Rishi had also written about a time in his career when a number of his films bombed at the box office. At the time, his lack of success had plunged him into a deep depression, and he had taken his frustrations out on Neetu. She had been pregnant with their child Riddhima at the time, and he expressed guilt at Neetu having to go through his breakdown in her fragile condition.

But the couple seemed to have sorted out their differences in the end, and were together until Rishi's death in 2020. On Rishi's birth anniversary recently, Neetu had posted a photograph of the two of them together.
